Juror's Story of Mohr Verdict

'SON SAVED ACCUSED WIDOW'

...ember of Panel Declares It Believed Widow Was Guilty Until Boy Went Upon Stand

Providence, Feb. 11.—Unanimous trust in the sincerity of the testimony of little ten-year-old Charles Mohr alone saved his mother from life imprisonment, according to one of the jurors who decided her fate, and the first to break the silence imposed on the jurymen by Judge Stearns.

Until the boy took the witness stand, the State's case, and even the friend of Mrs. Mohr's defence steadily increased the belief of the twelve men who sat for four weeks weighing every word offered in evidence and in argument, that they would be compelled to find but one verdict for all three defendants.

This juror, who has given the first glimpse into the mystery surrounding the mental processes that were responsible for the verdicts returned in the Mohr case, consented to tell of the sudden change of mind on the part of all the jurymen only on condition that he be shielded.

"We were all solidly for a verdict of guilty for Mrs. Mohr," he said, also for Brown and Spellman, too.

"And then little Charlie Mohr was placed on the witness stand. Of course, we knew that nothing definite could be decided until the whole

BELGIANS DENY OFFER OF PEACE

By International News Service.

London, Feb. 11.—Reports that Germany had made peace overtures to the Belgian government were officially denied today by the Belgian legation. The following statement was issued by the British government press bureau:

"The Belgian legation issues a statement that rumors which have been circulated to the effect that peace proposals have recently been made by Germany to the Belgian government are devoid of foundation."

BRITAIN ADDS TO AERIAL DEFENCE

By International News Service.

London, Feb. 11.—Spurred to action by the daring air raids of the Germans and the clamor of the public, the government has decided to take action to strengthen the aerial defences of London and the East Coast. A conference was held at the Admiralty when the proposal to establish a ministry of aviation was discussed.

U. S. Tailors Find Measurements of the Perfect Man

By International News Service.

St. Louis, Feb. 11.

The ideal, physically perfect American man has been analyzed. A committee of the National Association of Merchant Tailors, in convention here, reported the measurements of the composite American of perfect physique as follows:

Age 24 to 25 years; height 5 feet 6 inches, chest 38 inches, waist 33½ inches, hips 39½ inches, thigh 21¾ inches, calf 14½ inches, neck 14¾ inches, upper arm at tension 14¼ inches, head measure, one-eighth of full height of body, legs straight and feet arched, posture normal.

The Association placed their approval on the "abdominal suppressor" especially when used by fat men.

MISS WHIPPLE IN COURT FOR AUTO SPEED

Miss Katharyn C. Whipple of Brookline, daughter of Attorney Sherman L. Whipple, in the Dorchester court today was accused of overspeeding her auto on Columbia road, near Upham's Corner, on January 22. After Miss Whipple and Patrolman Keith and Gale had testified, the case against her was filed.

Miss Whipple made a good witness.

"I have driven cars of all kinds for several years," she said. "I drive about fifty miles a day. At the time the policemen stopped my car I was on my way to Plymouth.

"I was not going very fast. I don't think I was going over twenty miles an hour.

"I have made at least twenty-five trips in my auto to Plymouth, driving the car myself."

"The auto was going twenty-six miles an hour," said Policeman Keleh. "On account of the driver's furs I thought it was a man, and did not discover it was a girl until the auto had stopped.

"When I saw it was a girl who was driving, I said:

"'Whom shall I take for this?'

"'I am operating the car,' she said. 'And I am not responsible.'

"She handed her license and I copied down her name and address, Katharyn C. Whipple, Warren street, Brookline."

According to the police, Attorney Whipple, father of the girl, was in the car at the time, and with him were two men friends.

Miss Whipple was very attractively dressed in a dark coat, dark skirt and black hat.

"The case is filed," announced Judge Churchill, when the testimony was ended.

Miss Whipple's counsel was a young attorney who was said to have been one of the friends in the car with her father. Attorney Whipple was not in court.

RUSSIA TO RAISE ANOTHER BILLION

Petrograd, Feb. 11.—Newspapers of this city report that the government has decided to issue a new interior loan of two billion rubles at five per cent., under the same conditions as the preceding one. Under normal exchange conditions the equivalent in American money of two billion rubles would be approximately $1,000,000,000.

OPERATOR HELD BY POLICE

Charge Negligence in Causing Accident to Miss Eleanor Chase of Medford, on Way to Work

John P. Killeen, elevator boy in the Lawrence Building at Tremont and West streets, was arrested today on a manslaughter charge as a result of the fall to death of a passenger in his elevator this morning.

The passenger was Eleanor Chase, 20, of No. 175 Riverside avenue, Medford. She fell from the seventh floor to the basement and died in the ambulance while being removed to the hospital.

Killeen, when questioned by Sergt. John Anderson, said that the girl stepped out of the elevator at the seventh floor, the office where she worked being on the eighth. He said he did not know how she happened to fall back into the elevator shaft.

"I was looking at my indicator," he said. "The door of the elevator failed to click shut as it usually does.

"I looked down and I could see the woman's fingers just holding to the marble edge of the car floor. While I looked, her hold broke and she fell."

Killeen is 20, and lives at No. 13 Macaine street, Cambridge.

The girl was employed by the Mme. Carmela Testa Company, on embroidery work. She lived with the family of Harry Newhall in Medford, and had come from the Children's Mission.

The police charge Killeen was negligent in not closing both doors of his elevator before starting his car. They say the regulations require him to do so, and that if he had closed the door of the shaft, the girl could not have fallen.

BRYAN COMMENTS ON GARRISON'S ACT

By International News Service.

Duluth, Feb. 11.—"The peace advocates had absolutely nothing to do with Secretary Garrison's resignation," declared former Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan today, when informed by the International News Service of the Secretary's resignation. "Further than that I do not care to say anything at this time. It is the first I have heard of it." Mr. Bryan said he might issue a formal statement later.

Boston clearings, $32,848,851.

New York sub-treasury credit, $1,475,082.

New York clearings, $481,612,066.

The New York sub-treasury lost $130,000 to banks yesterday, reducing the cash net gain to $3,706,000 since Friday last.

Fitzgerald, 53, Has a Busy Day at State House

Former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald was fifty-three years old today.

Here is how he celebrated:

Advocated $5,000,000 bridge from Adams square to East Boston.

Advocated investigation of electric lighting rates in Hull.

Advocated extension of metropolitan water system to Hull.

Advocated better transportation facilities for Dorchester.

Took part in one wrangle.

The former Mayor's wrangle took place with Senator Martin Hays, chairman of the Public Lighting Committee, at the State House.

"The Summer residents of Hull pay two-thirds of the taxes and we pay twice as much for electricity in Hull as we do in Boston, yet the Gas and Electric Light Commission say they have no power to investigate the situation," declared Mrs. Fitzgerald.

"I am surprised to hear such a request as this from such a notable exponent of home rule," said Senator Hays. "The people of Hull have taken over the business of electric lighting. It's in their own hands. Why should we interfere?"

There was no time lost.

Mr. Fitzgerald then rushed to the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs, where Thomas J. Giblin was orating on the $5,000,000 bridge. "Ah," said Giblin, "here's Mr. Fitzgerald, who started this idea. Come on, Mr. Fitzgerald, tell the committee your views."

"I started this when I was Mayor," said Mr. Fitzgerald. "I doubt if there is any area in the world so much neglected as the district to the north of Boston. Give us a bridge. If you keep us in the ferryboat stage we will be a decadent city."

GREAT GRAIN STOCK WAITS FOR SHIPS

The Boston & Maine railroad announced today ythat the railroad is now holding 1,028,000 bushels of grain in its elevators for export. In addition to this, it has 576,000 bushels in cares for the same purpose. The road also has 773 cars of mixed freight for export.

The company states that no ship that comes to Boston for export freight need leave without a cargo because of delay in delivery on its part. It is stated that the ships of the French-Canada line are being diverted to New York because there is an accumulation of steel at that port.

$170,000,000 TURK DEFICIT FROM WAR

By International News Service.

Amsterdam, Feb. 11.—Turkey's deficit for a year owing to the war amounts to $170,000,000, according to a dispatch from Constantinople. For the first half-year of the war Germany and Austria advanced $75,000,000, while for the second half Germany alone let the Ottoman government have $100,000,000.

DECIDE TO REPEAL FREE SUGAR CLAUSE

Washington, Feb. 11.—The repeal of the free sugar clause of the Underwood tariff law was decided upon today by Democratic members of the House Ways and Means Committee. After a meeting of the Democrats Chairman Kitchin announced that the repeal bill would be favorably reported by the committee within a week and would be laid before a Democratic House caucus as soon as possible.

CONVICTED ON GIRLS' STORY

Former District Chief Porter Asks Legislature for Vindication, Charging Plot by His Enemies

Charges that Alfred J. Porter, formerly a district chief in the Boston fire department, was sent to State Prison on the false testimony of a Boston police sergeant and two little girls and that he served thirty-two months, although innocent, were made to the Committee on Public Service at the State House today by Attorney Clarence W. Rowley.

He charged that the two girls were coached to testify against Porter by a former woman agent of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, who threatened to take them away from their mothers.

Porter had refused to admit two friends of the sergeant to the firemen's ball without tickets, said Mr. Rowley, and a patrolman who figured in the case has since been dismissed from the police force because he was indicted for an attack on a girl.

Porter, who appeared before the committee declared he has a picture of the fireman who actually attacked the girls. He said the girls have identified the portrait as that of their real assailant.

AFFIDAVITS OF GIRLS.

Mr. Rowley presented the affidavits of the two girls exonerating Porter. In these affidavits, he said, the girls admit they testified against Porter at the direction of the woman agent.

He presented the affidavit of a third girl that she saw the two girls with a fireman and that Porter was not the man.

Porter was arrested in February, 1909, and Mr. Rowley said he obtained the affidavits less than a year ago. They were presented today in behalf of a bill to reinstate Porter in the fire department. Porter was liberated from State prison on parole.

Mr. Rowley said Porter was arrested on the charge of assaulting the two little girls in a shed belonging to the fire department. He said that Porter actually went into the shed, that the two girls entered behind him and that they were followed by the sergeant and the patrolman.

NO REMEDY IN COURT.

Porter said that when he was placed under arrest he said to the little girls: "Haven't you made a mistake?" but the sergeant testified in court that the question was: "Did I ever do you any harm?"

He said the present Chief Justice Bolster, who tried the case in the lower courts, said he did not believe the testimony of the girls, but upon the evidence of the police he held the defendant for the grand jury.

Asked why the matter is not called to the attention of the courts, Mr. Rowley said there is no court with jurisdiction, except the Legislature. He said the statutes limit the appeals for new trials to a year after the date of conviction.

He said that Porter was tried twice, the first jury disagreeing, but at the second trial, which began within forty hours after the end of the first, Porter was convicted. He claimed that this lack of opportunity to secure evidence between the two trials acted to the disadvantage of Porter.

Report Bulgarian Invasion of Rumania

Lausanne, Feb. 11.—Swiss papers publish reports that Bulgarian troops have invaded Rumania, opening hostilities between the two countries. They state that a Bulgarian patrol which crossed the frontier was immediately fired upon by Rumanian troops and forced to retire, but that reinforcements arrived for the patrol and fighting resumed.

Berlin, Feb. 11.—The War Office reports the repulse of four French attacks on the Heights of Vimy.

PREPAREDNESS OF BODY URGED BY SARGENT

Dr. Dudley A. Sargent of Harvard College, in a talk to the Master Builders' Association today, urged "preparedness through health, efficiency and proper recreation." Dr. Sargent referred to the national demand for preparedness and stated that an essential necessity was the preparedness of the body for any strenuous endeavor.

He declared that a nation of but 66,000,000 was today standing off powers of double their numerical strength, in population, principally because that nation ha d been foresighted enough to prepare the body thoroughly.

The subject of health and better condition of the body, as well as the mind can best be summed up, according to Dr. Sargent, in seven words. They are temperance, fresh air, easy labor, littl eease.

"Our first duty is to learn how to live," he declared. "Learn to rise early enough to take a little exercise and cold bath before breakfast; not to hurry to catch a train, car or ferry. If the weath r be damp wear rubbers, raincoat an carry an umbrella, above all else, to keep dry."

OUT OF PUBLIC LIFE, SAYS GARRISON

By International News Service.

New York, Feb. 11.—Ex-Secretary of War Lindley M. Garrison announced today that he was through with public life forever and that he would take up the private practice of law. He declined to discuss his resignation from the Cabinet or any political questions. Asked whether he would take the stump against President Wilson on the preparedness issue, he replied:

"I cannot conceive of such a thing as my taking the stump against Mr. Wilson."

When the ex-Secretary received the newspaper men at the home of a friend, George Leary, he said:

"I refuse to discuss any subject whatever concerning myself or the administration. I am retiring from public life. I have served the public twelve years and I think now I should do something for myself. However, that had nothing to do with my resignation."

He intimated that the resignation of Assistant Secretary of War Breckinridge had caused him no surprise.

MORGAN AND LORD CUNLIFFE CONFER

By International News Service.

London, Feb. 11.—J. Pierpont Morgan conferred with Lord Cunliffe, governor of the Bank of England, immediately after the American financier arrived here from Falmouth today.

MASS. MAN PROPOSED FOR THE CABINET

Scott Is Made Acting Secretary for 30 Days; Serious Democratic Controversy Is Expected

Washington, Feb. 11.—Adjutant-General Charles H. Cole of Massachusetts is being strongly urged upon President Wilson as a successor to Secretary of War Lindley M. Garrison, it was learned here today.

That there is a real possibility of General Cole's being appointed is indicated by the statement this afternoon that the President wants a man who combines independence and a thorough military knowledge for the post.

These qualifications, General Cole possesses. So able a man is he that Governor McCall of Massachusetts has kept him in office, though he was a Democratic appointee.

Former Governor Walsh of Massachusetts is in Washington, and it is understod he is one of those strongly advocating the selection of General Cole.

PREPAREDNESS LEADER.

There is at present no New Englander on the Cabinet, and it is believed the President would like to get a good New England man on the Cabinet between now and election time.

Adjutant-General Cole has been a leader in preparedness propaganda. He is an expert on military affairs, and has always advocated more complete federal control of the militia.

Inasmuch as with Secretary Garrison's resignational the continental army plan may fairly be said to have been buried, the federalization of the militia now appears to be the most likely occurrence.

Should Adjutant-General Cole be chosen, he would find himself in sym-

'Hay Defence Program Would Be Betrayal of Trust,' Is Garrison's Warning

"IN my judgment, enactment of Mr. Hay's program would set back the whole cause of legitimate, honest national defense in an entirely unjustifiable and inexcusable way.

"It would be, in my judgment, a betrayal of the trust of the people in this regard.

"It would be illusory and apparent without any reality or substance."—From Secretary Garrison's Letter to President Wilson Which Led Up to the Former's Resignation.

nally with the aims of Congress and the President.

Meanwhile strong pressure is also being exerted to have Secretary Lane made War Secretary. Leading Senators and Representatives have told the President that Lane is the one man who has the confidence of Congress and the people at the present time. And they are pointing out to the President that under existing conditions a man entirely familiar with the administration's defence program should be chosen.

SERIOUS CONTROVERSY.

A serious controversy within the Democratic party that will at least equal the feeling aroused when Secretary Bryan retired seemed certain today. Friends of Garrison insisted that he could not have remained longer at his present post under existing conditions. They asserted that President Wilson was annoyed by the national guard officers who opposed the continental army plan and by the Democratic members of the House Military Affairs Committee.

Garrison's friends insisted, made material concessions to meet the views of Representative James Hay of Virginia, chairman of the committee. And they say that he also made a canvass of the sentiment of the House and was convinced that if the committee had reported the continental army bill it would have been passed. The apparent opposition, Garrison was convinced, was more or less manufactured.

It is believed in army circles that the officers who have been advocating compulsory service before Congress are slated for transfer to other posts of duty away from Washington shortly after the new Secretary of War qualifies.

EXPECT SCOTT TO GO.

In this connection officials at the War Department intimated that they would not be surprised should General Scott, although made Acting Secretary of War for thirty days, today, either resign as Chief of Staff or be relegated to the Secretary's resignation; retired from that position. They also based this belief on the following with you in favoring compulsory enparagraph in President Wilson's letlistment for training, and I fear that ter to Garrison yesterday which pre- the advocacy of compulsion before the committee of the House, on the part of representatives of the Department of War, has greatly prejudiced the House against the proposal for a continental army, little necessary connection as there is between the plan and the opinion of the chief of staff in favor of compulsory enlistment."

Army officers who studied the latter part of this sentence declared that they did not believe General Scott could continue on his detail as chief of staff when he was declared to be in opposition to the opinions of the commander-in-chief. General Scott himself refused to discuss the matter in any way.

CABINET IN SESSION.

The usual cabinet meeting was held today, and it is understood that the entire question of national defense was under consideration. The members were utterly uncommunicative on leaving, and none would venture any information regarding the identity of the candidate the President has in mind as Garrison's successor.

While the Garrison continental army plan was the rock upon which the break between the President and the Secretary of War finally came it was accepted in circles today that behind it all was the advocacy of compulsory military service by the secretary and many of the higher officers of the army.

The President took the position that no scheme of compulsory service should be advocated; that this was a country which had developed the volunteer system to the limit and that acceptance of compulsory service as a necessity was a violation of democratic principles.

Today inclined to believe that within the very near future a step similar will be applied to the army along the lines they have been applied to naval officers.

Naturally the question of Secretary Garrison's successor continued all else today. Among the other names under consideration are understood to be the following:

Representative Swager Sherley of Kentucky.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York.

Colonel Edward M. House, the President's closest adviser, now on a confidential mission to European capitals.

Representative James Hay, chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee.

Major-General George W. Goethals, Governor of the Panama canal zone and builder of the canal.

Fred Lehmann of St. Louis, mentioned for Attorney-General at the beginning of the administration and more recently mentioned for the Supreme Court.

Alva Adams, former Governor of Colorado, urged by the Colorado delegation for post of Secretary of Interior before Secretary Lane was chosen.

H. M. Pindell, Peoria editor, once picked for ambassador to Russia.

Former Governor David I. Walsh of Massachusetts.

Major-General John F. O'Ryan of the New York militia.

Secretary of Agriculture Houston.

Secretary to the President Joseph P. Tumulty.

Senator George E. Chamberlain of Oregon.

Friends of the former secretary denied today that the question of politics entered into his resignation. They insisted that suggestions that he was desirous of becoming a candidate for Governor of New Jersey were entirely wrong. They point out that when the proposition was made some time ago that Mr. Garrison be drafted by the New Jersey Democrats, he said he had had all of politics he wanted, and when he retired from the Cabinet he intended going back to the practice of law.

Not a single intimate of either the President or Secretary Garrison had any knowledge that the differences between them were serious. It was known that Garrison was disappointed over the failure of the President to support his continental army against everything else.

But inasmuch as the President had made it very clear that he was going to try to get a free and full hearing for the Garrison plan it was expected that he would wait until after Congress had acted before taking any steps himself.

Friends of the resigned official pointed out today that he had spent weeks examining precedents as to the best method of improving the army, and that his recommendations to the President and to Congress represented his earnest belief that this was the only plan that promised success. Garrison, his friends insisted, felt that he had fallen victim to the political element interested in the militia plan of the National Guard as the real "first line of reserve defence," and that there was no use in trying to combat this influence, which controlled.

The resignation of Garrison was therefore accepted as meaning that the National Guard would retain its present position. The President has not abandoned the continental army plan, but he has had made plain to him that it hardly can expect to go through Congress, and it is believed that the final plan will be a federalized National Guard which will make it responsive to the orders of the President at all times.

Secretary Garrison is the third man to leave the Wilson Cabinet, James C. McReynolds of Tennessee, who was Attorney-General and was appointed to the Supreme Court, and Bryan, being the other two.

SCORES OF LETTERS.

Scores of letters and telegrams reached the White House today on the Garrison and Breckinridge resignations. For the most part they were from Democrats prominent in the party, who stated that they did not believe the resignations would harm the President's cause.

In connection with the declaration that a federalized militia is certain to be created, attention was called to the President's explanation to Representative Kahn of California, that he was not wedded to the continental army plan. It was generally accepted that the army plan, which soon will be reported to the House by the Military Committee, will provide for a regular army of 150,000 men and with the national guard as the second or "first reserve" line.

"GARRISON REFUSED TO CONTINUE AS PRESIDENT'S CLERK," SAYS COL. HARVEY

New York, Feb. 11.

COLONEL GEORGE HARVEY, a very close friend of Secretary Garrison, said in regard to the Secretary's resignation:

"It is a great misfortune that the ablest member of the Cabinet should have felt called upon to resign. But, thank God, we have the Hon. and only Josephus Daniels left.

Garrison resigned because he refused to continue as a clerk under President Wilson. There have been many clashes between the President and the Secretary of War since the Administration took hold in 1913.

"The first real quarrel, however, occurred when the President sought to make Joseph Davies Governor-General of the Philippines, to succeed Francis Burton Harrison. Secretary Garrison was in Ohio looking after the floods at the time. He learned of the President's purpose to appoint Davies from a trustworthy source. He hastened back to Washington and called upon the President.

"'I hear you are going to appoint Davies Governor-General of the Philippines,' demanded Garrison of the President. The President blushed crimson. Then he admitted: 'I had thought of doing so, if Governor Harrison insists upon resigning.'

"'Well, the Philippines are in my department. Send in Davies' nomination and take my resignation,' responded Garrison. 'At least you might have consulted with me before deciding on a man,' added the Secretary of War as he left the room.

The President did not name Davis because Harrison withdrew his resignation.

"This is but a sample of the treatment Garrison has received from the President. Garrison is a great, big man. He is the most independent member of the Administration. I presume constant affronts such as that indicated in the proposed Davies appointment have so angered him that he has concluded to quit. Who can blame him?"

"It is said the President and Secretary of War have had very serious differences over the preparedness program?" was suggested.

"That is true. Garrison believes in a Continental army. The President has apparently turned that proposition down. But, as I said before, Garrison quit because he declined longer to be a clerk to the President."

REVOLT PREDICTED IN WILSON CABINET

By WILLIS J. ABBOT.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The resignation of Secretary of War Garrison, followed automatically by that of Assistant Secretary Breckinridge, is looked upon by politicians as forecasting the disintegration of the Wilson administration.

It is regarded as merely the first outbreak of forces within the administration circle which are on the eve of revolt. Garrison happened to be too strong a man to submit to the autocratic rule by which the Cabinet has been governed. It is considered a question of a brief time when others will revolt as he has revolted.

The correspondence given out at the White House naturally gives to the President the better side of the case. But even at that it displays the retiring Secretary of War as fighting continually for a true system of military preparedness against a President ready to sacrifice every essential to meet passing exigencies of politics.

It depicts the President ready to abandon the continental army and to avoid any suggestion of compulsory military training at the slightest sign of Congressional opposition.

No statement from Mr. Garrison was given out here, but his friends were not hesitant in declaring that he had retired because he refused longer to defend the administration in a course which he was convinced was hypocritical and menacing to the nation.

WAS INDEPENDENT.

It is a matter of general knowledge that Secretary Garrison was one of the few men, perhaps the only man, about the cabinet table who always expressed his opinion to the President without hesitancy or evasion. This alone, as some cognizant of cabinet affairs believe, is sufficient to account for his resignation. The cabinet is not supposed to oppose or even to advise, but to applaud the President.

It is reported that the breach between the Secretary of War and the President began during the regime of Mr. Bryan and was partly healed by that statesman's retirement. It is well known that certain of the Bryan policies in dealing with Mexico were checked by Garrison's threat to resign.

GRAVE SITUATION.

At that time Secretary Lane threw in his lot with the Secretary of War and threatened his resignation as well.

It is significant that today Washington is alive with rumors that Mr. Lane's resignation will be tendered in a day or two.

The political effect of the Garrison resignation it is said will be disastrous. Not merely among politicians but throughout the country, Mr. Garrison was looked upon as a pillar of strength to the administration.

This feeling is current throughout the country and the impression created by the retirement of the Secretary of War for the avowed sentiments which the President reason that he questioned the sincerity of the President's devotion to preparedness will mix badly with the sought to arouse in his recent western trip.

Fundamentally, however, the gravity of the situation to the administration arises from the doubt it throws on the sincerity of the President's devotion to the national defence.

That doubt was voiced when he made his utterly indefensible suggestions of methods of taxation for the purpose of meeting the cost of preparedness.

It was increased when he allowed the Secretary of the Navy covertly to oppose all efforts to arouse the country to the need of naval expansion and even to cut down naval estimates while the President in the West was sounding a greater navy. It is confirmed by the reasons which Secretary Garrison gives for his resignation

SIX PLANS FOR BUILDING UP ARMY

Washington, Feb. 11.—For those who are muddled on the preparedness question it must be explained that six distinct plans for building up the United States army are now before the nation. Congress probably won't accept any one of them as a whole, but will arrive at a compromise.

The plans are as follows, in outline:

FORMER SECRETARY OF WAR GARRISON'S PLAN.

|---|---|
| Regular Army | 141,843 |
| National Guard | 129,000 |
| Continental Army | 400,000 |
| Grand Total | 670,843 |
| Cost per annum | $192,234,559 |

GENERAL STAFF AND WAR COLLEGE PLAN.

|---|---|
| Regular army | 500,000 |
| Continental army, under training three months in year for each three years | 500,000 |
| On furlough, subject to three months' additional training before taking the field | 500,000 |
| Grand total | 1,500,000 |
| Cost per annum | $353,000,000 |

SENATOR CHAMBERLAIN'S PLAN.

A regular army of 84 infantry, 20 field artillery and 19 cavalry regiments.

Thirty thousand men for the coast artillery, 7 regiments and 7 battalions of engineers.

A signal corps of 1,840 men—165,224 in all.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT'S PLAN.

|---|---|
| Regular army | 250,000 |

Some sort of compulsory service, based on the Swiss or Australian model.

GEN. LEONARD WOOD'S PLAN.

|---|---|
| Regular army | 220,000 |
| Federalization of the National Guard; compulsory service, based on Swiss or Australian system. | |

GEN. NELSON A. MILES PLAN.

Federalization of the National Guard, with shorter enlistment term as basis of increase. Utilizing the National Guard as the backbone of defence.

What to Do for Itching Skins

Eczema, ringworm and other itching, burning skin eruptions are so easily made worse by improper treatment, that one has to be very careful. There is one method, however, that you need not hesitate to use, even on a baby's tender skin—that is, the resinol treatment. Resinol is the prescription of a Baltimore doctor put up in the form of resinol ointment and resinol soap. This proved so remarkably successful that thousands of other physicians have prescribed it constantly for over twenty years.

Resinol usually stops itching instantly, healing the eruption quickly, unless it is due to some serious internal disorder. Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap can be bought at any druggists, and are not at all expensive. Write for free sample, Dept. 6-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.—Advertisement

CAN'T FIND DANDRUFF

Every bit of dandruff disappears after one or two applications of Danderine rubbed well into the scalp with the finger tips. Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store and save your hair. After a few applications you can't find a particle of dandruff or any falling hair, and the scalp will never itch.—Advertisement

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR CROSS, SICK, FEVERISH CHILD

Look, Mother! Is tongue coated, breath hot and stomach sour?

Harmless "fruit laxative" best to clean tender liver and bowels.

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not leave their little tongue play to empty their bowels, and they become badly constipated, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, stomach sick, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it cannot cause injury. No difference what ails your little one, be it full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse with contempt any Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup. For sale by all reliable druggists.—Advertisement.

HANDY STOMACH REMEDY TO HAVE ABOUT THE HOME.

Instantly stops indigestion, gas, sourness, heartburn or acidity.

The moment Pape's Diapepsin reaches the stomach all distress goes.

As there is often someone in your family who suffers an attack of indigestion, acid, stomach, dyspepsia, some form of stomach trouble, why don't you keep Pape's Diapepsin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, gassy stomach in five minutes.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will readily see why it makes indigestion, sour stomach, heartburn and other distress go in five minutes and relieves at once such miseries as belching of gas, eructations of sour, undigested food, nausea, headaches, dizziness, constipation and other stomach disorders.

Some folks have truly wonderful relief from indigestion and dyspepsia as an out-of-order stomach with the common everyday ailments advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe theirs is a case of nervousness, gastritis, catarrh of the stomach or cancer.

This, you see, would be a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; instead, it ferments and sours, turns to acid, gas and stomach poison, which poisons in the digestive tract and intestines, and, besides, you have a bad breath with foul odors.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to use Pape's Diapepsin. For sale by all reliable druggists.—Advertisement.

RUB RHEUMATIC, ACHING JOINTS AND STOP PAIN

Instant relief with a small trial bottle of old "St. Jacob's Oil."

Rheumatism is "pain" only.

Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Stop drugging. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil" right into your sore, stiff, "aching" joints, and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacob's Oil" is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and cannot burn the skin.

Limber up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" at any drug store, and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic pain, soreness and stiffness. Don't suffer! Relief awaits you! "St. Jacob's Oil" is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains. For sale by all reliable druggists.—Advertisement.

GIRL FACED DEATH IN TRENCH

Miss Elizabeth H. Ussher of Jamaica Plain, daughter of Bishop Samuel Ussher of the Reformed Episcopal Church of Massachusetts, the only American woman who has been fighting in the trenches, today told how she had fired a rifle at Turkish soldiers in Armenia.

She has just returned from Turkish Armenia, where she was under siege for twenty-six days, dodging shells and living in trenches till the Russians came to the rescue of the beleaguered Armenians.

She nearly lost her life with others in sudden mountain attacks from the Kurds, and now she wonders how she ever escaped alive from so many dangers.

Her brother, Dr. Ussher, had a private hospital in Van, Turkish Armenia, where she taught school and helped her brother in his practice. She lived in Van six years. All her property there has been destroyed by the Turks.

ATTACKED BY TURKS.

This is Miss Ussher's story of her adventures:

It is such a change to be back in America after being in the trenches, watching the fighting and loading the guns.

I shall never forget the moment when word came to us in Van to get ready for war. The Turks were in part of that town and the Armenians in the other part.

I was in the Armenian trenches after the firing began. In our hospital we had Armenian-Turks that we cared for.

It was hard looking after them during the siege, but we kept them from the Armenians as long as we could. Then, after we had shielded them from the attacks of the Armenians, we saw them fighting against us once they reached their own side again.

As to life in the trenches: It is hard, but when you are driven to defend yourself you forget about the hardships.

FOUGHT IN THE TRENCHES.

There is surely something exciting about firing from the trenches. When I first put a gun to my shoulder I not only felt the novelty of it, but I kept wondering what effect the shot we'd have.

You want to know right off if you've hit anything. You lose your fear in the excitement.

A man came up to me and warned me not to stay. He said I might get hit. But you don't think about that. You get too excited. Once you get into the spirit of the thing you never think of danger. You look for dead bodies—well, you get used to those also.

I finally left that part of the trench where I'd been fighting and went down to where the women were firing bombs and shells.

Just as soon as one of these left the trenches there would come a terrible silence. It would last until word came back that the shell or bomb had hit and killed.

There is one thing I've found out. It's this. You're bravest when there's nothing else to do!

I had many close calls while under fire. Once I was just entering the door of my room in the hospital when a shell exploded nearby. It was followed by several others, but I was not hit.

MAKES ESCAPE ON HORSEBACK.

When the Russians finally came into the town and the Turks retreated the Armenians began looting. They robbed every Turkish home they found.

When we went over to the Turkish side we found about thirty men ill. We helped them and they aided in cleaning up the town. There were bodies on all sides. It was the most terrible sight I ever saw.

I later left the town with seven children and went to Igdir at command of the Russians. Soon afterward the Russians fired the town and burned every house. I escaped on horseback with the children.

We went to Vellis. On the road we were attacked by the Kurds. Our caravan was under the care of the Russian Red Cross.

HUNDRED LOVE NOTES OF TYPIST ARE READ

By International News Service.

New York, Feb. 11.—In Justice Philbin's part of the Supreme Court today will be staged a love drama in which a hundred love letters will be read as a prologue.

Miss Anne Sullivan, the pretty girl who used to be public stenographer at the St. Regis Hotel, received the letters. She asserts that Captain James Wainwright Flanagan, N. S. N., retired, wrote the affectionate missives to her from Mexico, the Far West, and other parts of the world.

He finally proposed marriage, she declares, and set the day for the wedding. Then the surprise of her life came when she read in the newspapers on December 26, 1912, that he had married Miss Hazel Brown, of No. 550 Riverside Drive.

The report stated that D. W. Brown, father of the bride, had made two "trifling gifts" to his daughter. They consisted of a $150,000 check and a $16,000 necklace. In addition, after the wedding, the report added, the father of the bride would deed her a block of Denver real estate.

Miss Sullivan consulted Attorney Richard J. Donovan. He filed an action in Richmond County, charging the captain with breaking his alleged promise to marry Miss Sullivan. At that time she was living on West Seventy-third street.

One day, soon after the breach of promise suit was filed, she had her attorney withdraw action. Nor told him she thought the unfavorable publicity would be detrimental to her business interests. Later she started another action of the same nature in this county.

Miss Sullivan, it is reported, will not settle for less than $100,000 out of court. A report that tempting offers of compromise have been made to the plaintiff, but not, however, be confirmed.

Captain Flanagan is the owner of valuable mines. In his answer he denies that he promised to marry Miss Sullivan.

FAITH IN NATION SHOWN IN WEST

Dr. Albert E. Winship, just returned from the middle West, told the City Club at its Lincoln celebration that he had witnessed extraordinary enthusiasm at the meetings addressed by the President in Milwaukee and Chicago.

"I saw such a demonstration in those two cities," he said, "as I have never seen in a political campaign. The people went wild with enthusiasm not because they believed primarily in the President, but because they believe in America and in America's representative.

"And I come back to say that the people are willing to follow leaders who will lead them in any emergency."

21,166,000 HORSES IN UNITED STATES

Philadelphia, Feb. 11.—The number of horses in the United tates on January 1, 1916, were 21,166,000, valued at $101.60 each, with an aggregate value of $2,150,485,000. A year ago the number of horses were 21,125,000, valued at $103.22 each, with a total value of $2,180,102,000.

Elsie Toy, who the police say is known as the "Joan of Arc" of the Garment Workers, was arrested today at Harrison avenue and Beach street on an assault charge. The police say they saw the girl hit a man on the jaw and knock him flat when he tried to interfere with her while she was doing strike picket duty.

Bessie McCall was also arrested. The two arrests grew out of what the police officers in court called a "strikers' brawl" in which close to a hundred men and girls were involved.

Two thousand garment workers went out on strike yesterday, and this was the first disorder.

Elsie Toy and Bessie McCall were on picket duty near the Beach Street Shirt Factory when about fifteen girl workers, piloted by two men, came down from the Elevated station and approached the factory.

The police version of what followed is this.

The two pickets tried to argue the girls into refusing to go to work. Then men who were escorting the squad of fifteen girls, interfered. Elsie Toy, the police say, then struck one of the men on the jaw and knocked him down, and a tremendous confusion followed.

Bessie McCall found herself fighting the whole fifteen girls, the police say. The noise attracted a crowd and police officers came on the run.

Patrolman John A. Sullivan promptly arrested Elsie Toy. Then the girls in the crowd denounced Bessie McCall and Patrolman Thomas H. Dowling arrested her. Sergeant Kling, Patrolman Herbert Wright and Patrolman William Hartigan took a hand in quieting the crowd.

The girls were later arraigned in the Municipal Court and each was held in $50 for a hearing Thursday.

MILITIA READY IN ROCKLAND STRIKE

Rockland, Me., Feb. 11.—More strike-breakers have been brought here to keep the quarries and kilns in operation.

The newcomers are mostly Italians and have been informed that their countrymen quit the industry demanding fewer hours and more pay. The strike leaders claim that most of the men left as soon as the conditions were told them, but enough have stayed so that the company has not been compelled to shut down.

The situation causes so much uneasiness that the local company of Maine militia has been prepared for an emergency call.

SOMERVILLE HAS SCHOOL PROBLEM

BAY STATE VENUSES LEAD

Wellesley wins—by a leg.

Harvard College girls, jealous of the physical perfections of their Wellesley College rivals—as attested by recent comparison with the well-known Venus de Milo of statuesque fame—undertook some measurements of their own account.

Dispatches today from New York said that a partial compilation of measurements at the Harvard gymnasium showed that Miss Barnard compares quite favorably with Venus above the waist, but is heavier in the underpinning.

In other words, Miss Barnard, below the waist, is proportioned like a "Jumbo squash," to use the merry term devised by much the weekly comic paper.

On the other hand Miss Barnard consoles herself with the thought that mothers of many great men—Napoleon, Alexander the Great and Charlemagne, for examples—were broad, fat women, who produced mighty sons.

But that doesn't give the Barnard girls slender ankles or the Venus-like extremities which grace the Wellesley maids.

In height both college girls are under Venus. The statue is 5 feet 4 9-10 inches tall. The Barnard miss is just one and one-half inches less and the Wellesley girl one and seven-tenths inches less.

Venus is 25.1 inches around the waist. Miss Barnard is one-tenth of an inch more and Miss Wellesley a half-inch less.

The hips of Venus are 35.8 around. Miss Wellesley measures one inch less around the hips, but Miss Barnard is an even inch greater.

The Venus thigh measures 21.6 around, the Wellesley one the same, but the Barnard thigh is a half-inch more in circumference.

At the ankle Venus is 8.2 inches. The most Wellesley ankle is one-tenth of an inch less around, but the Barnard ankle has Venus beaten by four-tenths of an inch.

EDISON WORKS ON HIS 69TH BIRTHDAY

By International News Service.

New York, Feb. 11.—Thomas A. Edison was sixty-nine years old today. By way of celebration he planned to spend sixteen hours of the twenty-four tolling in his laboratory, his daily stunt.

He relaxed last night to attend, as the guest of honor, a dinner of the Illuminating Engineering Society at the Biltmore Hotel. The commercial men from all sections of the country were present. A life membership was bestowed upon the noted inventor by John W. Lieb.

"The world's real genius," was the way Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz, who is himself widely known as a scientist, spoke of Mr. Edison.

TELL HOW STOREY BOUGHT GAS STOCK

How the late William Henry Storey purchased a great deal of stock in gas light companies was brought out today in the testimony given in the Superior Courtin the $150,000 will case. Clinton W. Mason testified that Storey held 60 shares of stock in the Cambridge Gas Light Company on April 16, 1912. He said that it was then decided to increase the capital of the company and that Storey purchased $2,814.50 worth of the new stock. Mason declared that Storey later bought $1,400 worth of the same stock.

WILL ASK THE ARREST OF BROKER PUTNAM

New York, Feb. 11.—Assistant United States District Attorney Stanton announced today that a warrant would be issued for the arrest of John H. Putnam, who ducted a brokerage business under the firm name of John H. Putnam & Co., in New York, Hartford, Ct., and Springfield, Mass. The warrant will charge use of the mails to defraud. On Saturday Putnam withdrew $500,000 which he has on deposit in the Seaboard National Bank and later in the morning cashed some big checks. Since then he has not been seen.

UNITED FRUIT HEAD ON SOUTHERN TRIP

Andrew W. Preston, president of the United Fruit Company, has left for Pinehurst, N. C., for a three or four weeks' visit.

FIND PLOT TO TUNNEL IN BANK

Two young men were arrested early today in a cellar on Salem street in the midst of what the police say was an attempt to tunnel into the bank located at No. 132 Salem street.

The men were Paul Mondello, twenty-six, of Thatcher street, and Salvatore Perotta, of Unity street, who is nineteen. The bank is the Boston Cooperative Italiane.

Patrolman Frank Killilon, patrolling his beat on Salem street, heard a noise in a cellar below the tobacco store of Marchino Perri at No. 134 Salem street.

He tried the front door of the shop, and it was locked. So he summoned Patrolman David O'Keefe from across the street, and together they tried the door.

"It had been forced open," Patrolman Killion later reported. "So we went in and went down cellar.

"We found these two trying to rip out the partition and get into the basement of the bank.

"We asked them if they didn't know the bank's money was all kept in the vault upstairs, and they said they knew of a secret place where some of it was hidden."

The two were arraigned before Judge Wentworth and were held in $2,000 each for a further hearing Monday.

BLAMES EDISON CO. FOR E-2 MISHAP

New York, Feb. 11.—Responsibility for the explosion upon the submarine E-2 at the New York Navy Yard, which resulted in the loss of five lives, was laid upon the Edison Storage Battery Company by Lieutenant C. W. Nimitz, counsel for Lieutenant Charles M. Cooke, commander of the vessel, in summing up the evidence in the case before the naval court of inquiry.

Commander W. M. McGrann, C. S. A., retired, who has represented the Edison interests, opposed this view. Lieutenant Nimitz contended that the storage battery, from which it has been asserted hydrogen gas was escaping prior to the explosion, was installed absolutely in accordance with the directions of its manufacturers, as was also its ventilation system.

He asserted that the instructions for the care and operation of the battery were incomplete in regard to ventilation in all other conditions except that of charging.

AUTO SKIDS INTO THE MYSTIC RIVER

The finding of an automobile in the Mystic River when the tide went out today led the police of Medford to believe that a tragedy had occurred. As they made preparations to grapple for bodies, Alexander Sutherland, Chauffeur for H. A. Soule, No. 371 Walnut street, Brookline, arrived with a crew of men from a garage. Sutherland explained that the machine had skidded on Mystic avenue, near Connaton Park, went through a fence and over a twenty-five foot embankment into the river. He was alone in the car.

FRAUD CHARGED IN BIG BARGAIN AD

James M. Stuart has been advertising, postoffice inspectors say, the following bargain:

"Six ten-cent cigars.

"Beautiful ash try.

"Best cigar case.

"Total value $1—$1 for twenty-five cents."

The inspectors say, too, that they found that Stuart sent out in reply to mail orders were practically worthless. He was held in $500 by Federal Commissioner Hayes today until February 18 on a charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

JURORS WIN FIGHT FOR 3 DAYS' PAY

The jurors of the sixth session of the Superior Civil Court today won their fight for three days pay for service. Chief Justice Aiken giving a decision in their favor and establishing the precedent for payment. Last week the jurors reported for duty each day, but were excused owing to the illness of Judge Keating. They only received payment for two days and solicited the assistance of Clerk Campbell, who reported the matter to Judge Aiken.

Milk Street 'Spy Den' Story Exploded; Office of Plain Realty Dealers

The inside story of the so-called German "spy den" in Milk street, the names of its occupants and their business activities, became known today, when the tenants of the office—Herman and Walter Hindenlang, president and treasurer respectively of the Securities Real Estate Trust—instructed their attorneys to take action to protect their names. The "spy den" story, which had been so industriously circulated, turned out to be a fiver.

The Hindenlang brothers, who are listed as residents of No. 25 Ashfield street, Roxbury, declare through their counsel, John F. McDonald and James M. Graham, No. 522 Tremont building, that they are not now, never have been and never expect to be connected with any German activities whatever.

The "artillerymen," said to have been seen in the office, is said by attorneys to have been Peter A. Winn, No. 19 North Grove street, said today:

"It is true that I am a member of the Naval Brigade. I have been a member of Company C for about two and a half months. Lieutenant Howard G. Copeland is my commanding officer.

"I have never been in the office you speak of, as far as I can remember, and I don't understand how my name came to be mentioned. I have been in the office of Fitzgerald & Hubbard, stock brokers on the first floor of the same building, in connection with business for my employer. The last time I went there was about two Summers ago.

"As far as plans are concerned, I don't think the Naval Brigade has any. If it has I wouldn't see them. I haven't received a rifle yet."

As a result of a telephonic warning to Henry Howard, vice-president of the New England Chemical Manufacturing Company, that his munitions plant at Woburn was to be blown up, extra guards were on duty about the premises today.

SURROUNDED BY WALL.

The plant is surrounded by a high wall. This wall is patrolled by guards day and night. After dark the space between the mill and buildings is illuminated by large searchlights. Residents of Woburn today stated that the number of guards had been increased since yesterday.

Mr. Howard denied that federal agents had called on him, but admitted that he communicated with them.

In connection with the report that an artilleryman had been seen at the Milk street offices suspected of being a "spy den," Captain Kelton of Fort Banks called at the federal building, it was said, and conferred with Special Assistant Attorney-General Leo A. Rowe's and Assistant United States District Attorney Daniel A. Shea. Agent Schmid and Howard of the Department of Justice were said to have been present.

The federal officials later denied that any evidences of plotting had been discovered.

Mollie Fancher, Famous Invalid, Dies in New York

By the International News Service.

New York, Feb. 11.—Mollie Fancher is dead. The most remarkable invalid the world has ever known, the courageous little woman who for more than 50 years passed away in her sleep in the rosewood bed in which she had lain for half a century. A complication of diseases, aggravated by a severe cold, which she contracted a few days ago, caused her death in her Brooklyn home today.

The little woman was happy in her affliction. She was even more cheerful than the friends who were wont to call. Only eight days ago she celebrated the golden jubilee of the accident which rendered her a hopeless cripple, and cheerily told her friends that she still had 50 more years to live. When she closed her eyes last night, she did not know it would be the slumber of death.

Mollie Fancher was 66 years old. She was 16 when she was rendered a cripple as the result of a street car accident.

American Weds Belgian Girl in War Romance

By International News Service.

Amsterdam, Feb. 11.—A war romance in which the leading roles were taken by an American and a beautiful Belgian maiden has been revealed by the marriage early today at the city hall here of Miss Helen Guinotte, daughter of the Burgomaster of Bellecourt.

Capt. Cairstairs is a member of an American relief committee for the Belgians and it was in the performance of his duties that he met his bride-to-be. He will retain his functions and Mrs. Cairstairs will aid him in the work of relief.

They will defer their honeymoon until after the war is ended.

NOL PROS SIEGEL CASE

District Attorney Pelletier today nol prossed the three indictments pending against Henry Siegel, former department store proprietor, and Frank Vogel, his manager. These indictments have been pending since April, 1914, and charge the men on 202 counts of larceny.

The District Attorney gives as his reason for the nol pressing that the matter was taken up in New York and considered at the time of the trial. Siegel is now serving a year in Sing Sing and will be released on March 1.

Two indictments against the two men, one on twenty counts and the other on seventy-three counts, were in relation to the Siegel bank.

Mr. Pelletier says he has been informed that the depositors have received the same amount of money here as the depositors in the New York Henry Siegel bank.

The other indictment against these men was on 199 counts, alleging misappropriation of funds from the First National Bank and from the International Trust Company. The indictments were held here without any attempt being made to make arrests.

LOUIS B. CARR OF ARLINGTON DEAD

Louis B. Carr, treasurer of M. W. Carr & Co., manufacturing jewelers of Somerville, died at his Arlington home today. He had been in poor health for a year, and died from a complication of diseases. He was born in North Attleboro, May 31, 1869, and graduated from Harvard in '91. He leaves a widow, a son, two brothers and a sister, Mrs. Guy M. Rowers and Assistant United States District Attorney Daniel A. Shea. Services will be held from him residence on Monday.

SCHOONER BADLY BATTERED IN GALE

Fall River, Feb. 11.—The three-masted schooner Gracie D. Chambers, hailing from New York, arrived in port with a coal cargo, following a eventful trip from South Amboy. The schooner lost her spanker mast, three sails and jibboom. The vessel was leaking badly and part of the crew had pneumonia. Nearly one month was required to make the trip.

LOWELL TO ISLAND BY WAY OF "MOVIES"

Stephen Elgin, who works in a munition plant in Lowell, came to Boston to see a moving picture war film and landed at Deer Island today for six months, because he carried a loaded revolver.

Stephen was with five Lowell friends. After the "movies" they started for Chelsea, got off at Maverick square, East Boston, by mistake, and became involved in arguments with the police. Stephen drew his handkerchief but there was a revolver under the handkerchief.

Without Regard to Cost or Loss

It is with great reluctance that we are compelled to take these measures to discontinue our Boston store, which for years has been the home of the great Georges business.

But conditions force this drastic action. In spite of a splendid gross increase in sales during 1915—the Boston store failed to show any profit whatsoever. This was due to the constantly rising cost of doing business, such as corner rental, taxes, high salaries, expensive displays, overhead, etc. So, rather than lower the Georges standard of value—or advance prices—we are discontinuing this store and closing out the entire stock at an enormous sacrifice.

Considering the high character of Georges model clothes, the rising woolen market and famine for dyestuffs—this sale offers an unprecedented money-saving opportunity.

CRISIS FOR U. S. IN GERMANY'S NEW POLICY

By International News Service.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The United States faces a new and extremely grave issue with Great Britain and her allies. This will come from the announced intention of Germany and Austria to regard all armed belligerent merchantmen as auxiliary warships and to sink them without warning after March 1.

Two weeks ago the State Department suggested to Great Britain and her allies that in future merchantmen be disarmed. The proposition met with disfavor in every allied foreign office. Formal rejection of the plan is ordered from London, Paris, Rome and Petrograd.

Now Germany and Austria complicate the situation by accepting without reservation the proposition made to their enemies. While the United States regards this acceptance on the part of the central powers as a victory for its contention that unarmed merchantment must not be sunk without warning, the conditions of acceptance are such that complication hardly can be prevented.

NEW SITUATION CREATED.

For the United States made the proposition that they cease arming merchantmen. In the face of almost certain rejection by those to whom the proposition was made the central powers now come forward and subscribe to this government's condition. The United States is now expected to hasten an announcement that it has changed its rule regarding the entrance of armed merchantmen into American ports.

Hitherto, each case has been considered separately and in this manner four armed Italian liners have been permitted to clear New York in the past few weeks. This has brought forth vigorous protests from Austria-Hungary, which has been bearing the brunt of the submarine warfare in the Mediterranean.

In circles close to the allied embassies here the opinion was freely expressed that a boycott of American ports by allied shipping would follow acceptance by the State Department of the latest proposal of the central powers. This would be brought about by sending to the United States only vessels sufficient to carry back to Europe such products as are needed by the allies. Few or no goods would be brought to America.

NOTIFICATION EXPECTED.

So far only informal notification of the Austro-Hungarian policy has been made to the State Department. Both Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, and Baron Zewlednek, the Austrian charge, are expected to present the formal decisions of their two governments either today or tomorrow.

In Teutonic circles it is said that the United States cannot then logically refrain from issuing warning to all Americans that if they travel on armed merchantmen they do so at their peril. The central powers for their part will give the most solemn assurances that no submarine attacks will be made on these unarmed vessels.

Germany Gives Notice to Neutrals

By International News Service.

Berlin, via Amsterdam, Feb. 11.—Germany is determined to stop the destruction of its submarines by hostile merchant ships equipped with guns and in reality serving as auxiliary cruisers.

With this purpose it will, after March 1, claim the right to torpedo without notice all armed merchant vessels. The ships armed "for defence only" will be regarded as warships and neutral citizens taking passage on such vessels will do so at their own peril.

This action was decided upon by the Admiralty after it had received definite evidence that the British government has instructed masters of such armed steamers to fire upon German U-boats.

Due notice of the policy to be adopted—a policy that is expected to re-open the submarine campaign with full strength, was given to neutral diplomats in Berlin. Germany and Austro-Hungary are in full accord in the measures to be taken.

GERMANY'S NOTICE.

In the notice sent to foreign envoys the government says:

"The German government hereby gives neutral powers cognizance of this situation that they may warn their citizens against further intrusting their lives or property to armed merchant ships of the powers at war with Germany."

In explaining the stand that it has taken, the Admiralty cites nineteen cases in which British merchant vessels attacked German submarines, and quotes Winston Spencer Churchill, then first lord of the British Admiralty, as saying on March 26, 1915:

"British merchantmen are to be armed in their own defence; the government will lend the necessary guns, supply ammunition, and provide for the training of members of the ship's company to form gun crews."

SUPPORT OF CLAIMS.

To establish its claim the armed merchant vessels are in reality auxiliaries, the Admiralty says:

"The British Ambassador at Washington on August 25, 1914, declared to the American Secretary of State that the arming of British merchantmen is solely a precautionary measure, adopted for the purpose of defence against attack from hostile craft. And in the same letter assurances were given that 'British merchant vessels will never be used for purposes of attack; that they are merely peaceful traders, armed only for defence; that they will never fire unless first fired upon, and that they will never under any circumstances attack any vessel.'

"The British government therefore claimed that these armed merchantmen, because they never were to open fire, were different in their legal status from auxiliary cruisers. This, however, is incompatible with British prize court rules, and the order in Council of Aug. 5, 1914, when it was expressly stated, 'about ships of other nationalities that 'ships of war shall include an armed merchant ship.'

CHARGE SECRET ORDERS.

"In fact it was soon proved by the actual conduct of such armed merchantmen that they attacked without being attacked and that they flew foreign flags.

"These incidents are not casual but simply the consequence of a secret order given by the British Admiralty as proved by official documents found on board British armed merchantmen."

The German government is now publishing photographic reproductions of these orders.

NO FIGHTING ON THE WESTERN FRONT

By International News Service.

Paris, Feb. 11.—There was no fighting on the west front last night, according to the French War Office. The following communique was issue today:

"Nothing of importance occurred during the course of the night."

WAR SUMMARY

The artillery fighting in France has developed into vigorous infantry combats, with both sides claiming gains. The French issued an extended statement, claiming "progress" and small gains here and there, together with the repulse of German attacks.

The German statement claims the capture of a "large trench section" from the French northwest of Vimy, together with other small gains. Berlin admits French gains in some places.

On the whole, this fighting, while bloody, has as yet produced no result of importance. Its net effect has been a slight advance of the German lines.

The Russians are developing a strong attack in Rumania, and having conquered the Uscieczko fortified position, are threatening Czernowitz, which has already changed hands a number of times in this war.

Petrograd claims a victory in Persia, and an advance on the Caucasus front.

The fighting on the Italian front was without important results—as it has been from the beginning.

There are unofficial reports that the Austrians have occupied Durazzo, without meeting any resistance. This may be expected to occur shortly, even though today's reports are premature. The Italians, meanwhile, are reported to be landing troops at Avlona, sixty miles to the southward, and a stand may yet be made by the allies in that region.

Athens reports that Greek troops met and drove back Bulgarian irregulars who crossed the frontier Tuesday. The allies are landing more troops at Salonica in preparation to meet German attacks, which are expected to begin at any time

Politically, the significant events of the day included the visit of Premier Briand and Albert Thomas, the latter French Under Secretary of War and Munitions, to Rome. The allies have long been dissatisfied with the lack of energy in Italy's conduct of her campaign. A munition shortage is held to be responsible; and France may undertake to furnish munitions to her ally.

The United States has presented demands in the Petrolite case.

SLAVS CONTINUE DRIVE INTO GALICIA

By SYDNEY B. CAVE.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

London, Feb. 11.—Strong attempts are being made by the Austro-Hungarian forces on the southern Galician front to force the Russians back to the eastern bank of the Dneister River at Uscieczko, but official advices from Petrograd state that all attacks have been repulsed.

The drive of the Russians against the strongly fortified Austro-Hungarian position at Uscieczko is part of the general campaign in southern Galicia to cut a path through Bukowina and occupy Czernowitz.

Working under the direction of German engineers the Austro-Hungarian troops had strongly fortified Uscieczko and it was regarded as impregnable, but it was finally taken through siege tactics which have lasted for two months.

Uscieczko lies on the eastern bank of the Dneister, 35 miles north of Czernowitz, 30 miles north-east of Kolomea and 25 miles from the Bessarabian frontier. It is a natural stronghold, lying on the croup of a high ridge, with a rolling stretch of country to the eastward. Early attempts of the Russians to capture the position by storm proved failures and cost heavy losses, so the Russian engineers advised siege attacks, that were carried on under tremendous difficulties owing to blizzards.

Herodenka now lies in the path of the Russians, if they contemplate a sweep south from the Dneister toward the Bukowinian capital. However, the Austrian defences there do not offer the obstacles that Uscieczko did.

The growing activity in Southern Galicia is evidently a co-operative campaign on the part of Russia to help the allies in the Balkans and to influence Rumania. The Russians have massed a great army, supported by a tremendous amount of artillery, and fighting east and north of Bukowina is in progress over a wide front.

41-Knot U-Boat Chasers Built in U. S. for Russia

By International News Service.

Greenport, L. I., Feb. 11.—What is designed to be the fastest boat in the United States is being built by the Greport Basin and Construction Co. here. The craft will have a speed of forty-one knots an hour. Equipment with double rudders will make it possible to turn the boat in its own length. It will carry one-pound rapid fire guns and a 16-ton torpedo tube.

Drawing only two feet ten inches of water, the craft will be able to skim over mines. Its government records it will be designated as a torpedo boat chaser. Twenty boats of similar construction have been completed for the Russian government by the same concern.

GERMANS REPULSE 4 ATTACKS BY FRENCH ON VIMY HEIGHTS

By International News Service.

Berlin, Feb. 11.—German troops have repulsed four efforts by the French to regain positions lost on Vimy Heights, the War Office announced today. Similar efforts on the part of French forces south of the Somme also resulted in failure, it is stated.

The following official report was issued this afternoon:

"Western theatre of war—Northwest of Vimy the French, following artillery preparations that lasted for several hours, four times attempted to recapture their lost trenches. The attacks failed.

"South of the Somme the enemy was also unable to recapture any part of his lost positions.

"On the Aisne and in Champagne there here artillery duels.

"One of our captive balloons escaped without its crew and drifted over the enemy lines at Vailly.

"Eastern theatre of war: "North of Lake Dryswiaty an advancing strong Russian division was repulsed.

"Balkan theatre of war. There is nothing new to report."

RECORD TOURNEY TO AID PREPAREDNESS

New York, Feb. 11.—The largest military and naval tournament in the history of New York State will be held at Sheepshead Bay motordrome in May. Its object will be to bring the public and military of the United States into close relationship. Plans for the tournament were made at a meeting held at the Hotel Biltmore.

It was intimated that the tourney might be free to the public. It will be financed by Harry S. Harkness. The tournament will be national in scope and has the approval of President Wilson, former Secretary of War Garrison, Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Governor Whitman.

The program will be participated in by regulars from the army and navy, the National Guard and the Naval Reserve. It is planned to have the foremost aviators in the country take part in aeronautical feats.

Reveals Workings of the Powerful British Fleet in the North Sea

By W. ORTON TEWSON,
Staff Correspondent with the Battle Cruiser Squadron Somewhere in the North Sea.

Feb. 10, via London, Feb. 11.—"Where's Battenberg?"

"Here, sir."

"Show these gentlemen turret A."

The scene was the deck of His Majesty's ship ——, one of Britain's most famous battle cruisers, the gift of a certain colony. "These gentlemen" were correspondents of French and American newspaper agencies invited by the Admiralty to visit perhaps the most important and certainly the most active part of the British fleet.

This was the second occasion on which American correspondents had been similarly honored by the Admiralty, and both times representatives of the International News Service were chosen the medium for letting the American public know what the navy was doing.

Several months ago Frederick Palmer, representing the International News Service, visited the grand fleet. Today I had the good fortune to see the inspiring spectacle of more than fifty modern warships at sea, all under the magnificent command of Admiral Beatty.

FAMOUS WARRIORS.

There were battle cruisers, including the famous Lion, Tiger and Princess Royal, each of which I boarded; light cruisers, destroyers and certain new craft concerning which it is not permitted to write.

Fortunately the weather was fine, but very cold. We were far north when the destroyer, on which I was aboard, picked up the battle cruisers. It was a splendid sight and one never to be forgotten.

We previously had been divided into parties, and I, with two French colleagues, clambered aboard His Majesty's ship—to find the whole ship's officers from the captain, "Jimmy" Green, downward to welcome us. We were put under the charge of Lieutenant Battenberg, a well set-up, splendid looking young officer, who piloted us to turret A, working off his doubtful French meanwhile in the cheeriest manner.

After devices acrobatic performances we reached the turret, and Battenburg put his men through gun drill, explaining their action the while.

There are two guns to each turret and four turrets on this particular ship. I am forbidden to mention the calibre of the guns, but they are very large.

MARVELOUS ACTION.

The ease with which these big monsters are handled takes one's breath away. Fancy a mass of metal weighing not far short of 100 tons being moved the fraction of an inch by the pressure of a finger upon a small wheel or by even placing one's little finger upon the wheel. Later, on board the Tiger, I was allowed to raise and lower one of these guns to see for myself. As to loading and firing the quickness is simply marvellous. They think it is bad work unless they load and fire three salvos from each gun in one minute and each shell weighs well over 1,000 pounds. Of course, the lifting and loading is all done by hydraulics, but there is plenty of work for the 50 or 60 men required to man each turret.

From the turret we went below, En route Battenberg pulled us to his cabin, the walls of which were covered with photographs, prominent among them being pictures of Prince Louis of Battenberg, former first sea lord of the Admiralty.

"Hello, that's Prince Louis Battenberg," I exclaimed innocently.

"Yes," our conductor returned, "he's my 'guvnor.'"

Immediately the likeness struck me and I recognized in Lieutenant Prince George Battenberg, the elder son and heir to Prince Louis.

Just then one of my French colleagues rather excitedly exclaimed: "Bosches."

GERMAN PROCESS.

I turned and saw him pointing at a colored reproduction of a charming tures adorning the walls, and belonging to a series issued by a popular London weekly through a process of dotting and coloring invented in Germany.

The Frenchman had recognized the process, of which th epoor Prince was ignorant, hence the outburst.

It was an amusing incident, but it shows the depth of French feeling against Germany and anything German.

Also on the wall was a flag with the inscription, "Welcome to Honolulu."

The Prince saw me looking at it and remarked: "That is the finest place I have ever been to."

He explained that he was there on a world tour of the British fleet and had the time of his life.

Among the other photographs in the Prince's collection were two of Camille Clifford, whom Burnland, Lyndhurst Bruce, was recently killed in France.

GRIEVES FOR WIFE.

"I feel very sorry for Mrs. Bruce," said the Prince sympathetically.

The Prince was in the first Heligoland fight, when his ship helped sink the German cruisers Koln and Mainz, and also in the Dogger Bank affair, when the Bluecher was sunk.

Among Prince George's mementos of the latter fight is a good-sized model of the Bluecher made by one of the latter's survivors—Seaman Schlict—during his detention. It is a fine piece of carving, seeing that Schlict had only a small knife for a tool.

Our host pointed out that Schlict had put an admiral's flag on the Bluecher, which seemed to suggest that the admiral was aboard during the fight. Also the model shops only eight-inch guns, which does away with the story that the Bluecher was re-armed with eleven-inch guns.

On the question of re-arming warships with bigger type guns I talked with many officers, while on shipboard, and the universal opinion was that it was practically impossible. The argument was that ships were built for the guns, not the guns for the ships. This is interesting in view of the revived talk about what the Germans are doing in this respect.

Another interesting point that I discovered is that on all the ships of the British navy during their spare time the sailors are busily making munitions. This, I understand, is the result of a suggestion by David Lloyd-George, the Minister of Munitions, and heartily endorsed by the Admiralty.

MEN ENJOY WORK.

The men heartily enjoy the work, which serves to relieve the ennui of waiting for the Germans to come out, as one man put it. The results are eminently satisfactory and prove to them that Britain is beginning to make full use of her vast resources.

Aboard the New Zealand, which we also visited, we found them very proud of Ship's Corporal Hatherly, who was recently awarded a distinguished conduct medal for gallantry in the trenches in France.

A certain number of the sailors of the fleet were invited to France to see what war on land is like. They went as guests, but got into a fight, and Hatherly especially distinguished himself with a machine gun.

"It was like mowing down corn," said Hatherly when asked about his experience.

From the New Zealand we went to the Tiger, which is the pride of the squadron, inasmuch as it is the latest and largest type, at all events, for publication. They were very proud of their share in the fight of January 24, although there are few scars to shew for it.

An inspection of this vessel served to show the vast improvement in every way over the earlier ships of the same type. The Lion has more to show in the way of scars, which was to be expected, seeing the strenuous part she played in big sea battles.

In conclusion, the impression left on me was that every man from the admiral down was just as keen and spirits on the day the war broke out. The chief lament seemed to be the possibility that the German fleet would not come out, although recently there has been more cause for hope in this respect, and some optimistic junior officers talk of "a coming fight," but older and wiser heads wag a mournful no.

BRIAND IN ROME, SAYS ALLIES WILL WIN

By CAMILLO CIANFARRA,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Rome, Feb. 11.—Premier Aristide Briand of France and Albert Thomas, French under secretary of War and Munitions, conferred today with members of the Italian cabinet, including Premier Salandra and Minister of War Zupelli and Minister of Finance Sonnino.

Economic matters, foreign affairs and military operations and needs were discussed by the representatives of the two governments.

At a dinner last night in honor of the visiting French officials, Premier Briand declared his confidence that the allies would gain victory in the great war.

The address of welcome was delivered by Signor Sonnino, who declared that the traditional Italo-French friendship had been confirmed by the war.

CLERK IN HOME OFFICE IS HELD AS PLOTTER

By FRANK TEWSON,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

London, Feb. 11.—Government agents are conducting an investigation which may reveal one of the most serious German plots in England since the war began. This case, which grew out of two arrests last month, is marked by the utmost secrecy and has already involved one employe of the Home Office.

Those under arrest, so far as known, are: John Melherson Mitchell Dallas, a clerk in the inspector of aliens in the office of the Secretary of State for Home Affairs, and Nol Joachim Altant, alias Altshuler, a Russian, who is described upon the records at Scotland Yard as a professional stager.

The police charge against the men is that they conspired between December 1 and January 15 that money should be corruptly given to and accepted by Dallas "as an inducement to him to do divers acts in violation of public duty and welfare."

The police have found that Altant has been in this country for seven years and has been employed at infrequent intervals, although he was always well supplied with money. He made it a point to cultivate the friendship of government clerks and Dallas became an intimate.

Son's Testimony Saved Mrs. Mohr, Says Juror

case was in. But we discovered in the jury room that we had all been certain that if any was guilty, all in his testimony, and when the Attorney-General asked him why he sure that if he had been coached that his answer would have been anything but that, any answer in the world but that.

"He was the same with every other question.

"He said he was standing right at his mother's side when George Healis called on the night of the murder, and his testimony contradicted everything that Healis had sworn to.

"When it came to a question of who would be taken, the boy's or the chauffeur's, Healis ran a bad second.

"Sympathy had no part in the verdict. Religion had no part in it, either. I have heard both explanations given. They are both wrong.

"We just couldn't believe Healis after hearing Charlie Mohr. That's all there was to it.

"Healis was a self-confessed liar. And I don't think I ever saw a more manly little fellow than Charlie Mohr. If it had not been for him, for his convincing testimony, opposed to the strongest link of the State's case connecting his mother, there would have been three guilty verdicts."

The impression persists in Providence that if Mrs. Mohr is finally subjected to the ordeal of a trial on the charge of murderous assault on Miss Emily Burger, "the other woman" who figured so prominently during the trial, it will be because Mr. Mohr's friends demanded that she be tried again in justice to Miss Burger.

MAY PRESS CHARGE.

At the time that Dr. Mohr received the bullet wounds that resulted in his death, Miss Burger was also twice wounded, so seriously that for a time she, too, was expected to die. Had the course of one of the bullets been a hair's breadth different, the doctors said, she could not have lived.

It is pointed out by those who believe that the State may yield to this theory that Mrs. Mohr was slowly to be jealous of Miss Burger by the evidence in the murder trial.

On this account, they claim, the evidence in the murder trial would have more weight in a trial for assault with intent to kill Miss Burger. Meanwhile Mrs. Mohr's attorneys are preparing for any eventuality, although they do not believe that the State will run any chance of being accused of persecution, a charge that would be made in event of pressing a trial at which the chances of conviction did not seem any stronger than in the present case.

BOOKS GUARDED.

As a part of this preparedness the account books of Dr. Mohr, now carefully guarded by Attorney Arthur Cushing, are being subjected to the most minute scrutiny. These books are the "Red Book" and the "Green Book" from which sensational revelations were threatened during the trial that were said to involve many women prominent in Newport and Providence.

Dr. Mohr's Green Book was examined by an AMERICAN representative today. This book covers the amounts received by Dr. Mohr for the past eight years. It shows that the highest single amount he ever received was $1,000. This was in January, 1915. The lowest figures quoted are $10, and there are several hundred of these. They were undoubtedly paid by his less fashionable patients.

Sums ranging from $25 to $75 predominate, and while there are no names, there are several initials in the famous Green Book.

However, only a half-dozen entries have identifying initials in the book for over a period of eight years. It is known that Miss Burger is the only one who really knows who Dr. Mohr's patients were.

File a Motion for New Trial.

Providence, Feb. 11—William H. Lewis and John B. Edwards, attorneys for Cecil Victor Brown and Henry Spellman, the two negroes convicted last week of the murder of Dr. C. Franklin Mohr, today filed motions asking for a new trial.

They say the verdict was contrary to the evidence, that the jury misconstrued or disregarded instructions given them by the judge, and that new and material evidence has been discovered.

Arguments on the motion are expected to be heard February 19.

Attorneys Lewis and Edwards are being backed by the colored organizations in this city to carry on a successful campaign to raise a fund to free the two convicted negroes. Attorney Lewis is popular throughout the country, and is looked upon as the ideal leader in such a campaign.

He intends to make a national issue out of the Brown and Spellman conviction, and may leave for the South very shortly to enlist the aid of negro leaders. In this event the widest publicity will be given to the cause.

It is claimed that $50,000 can be raised within two weeks to fight the case to the Supreme Court of the United States on the question of constitutionality. It is claimed that the law under which the two negroes were tried is unconstitutional, and if the worst comes to worse, Lewis plans to take it to the highest tribunal in the country at Washington.

BUFFALO RECORDS AN EARTH SHOCK

Couldn't Believe Healis After the Mohr Boy Spoke

We just couldn't believe Healis after hearing Charlie Mohr. That's all there was to it.

Healis was a self-confessed liar. I don't think I ever saw a more manly little fellow than Charlie Mohr.

We discovered in the jury room that we had all been certain that if one was guilty all were. We were all solidly for a verdict of guilty for Mrs. Mohr.

And then little Charlie Mohr was placed on the stand.

That settled it for us.—Statement by member of the Mohr jury to Boston AMERICAN reporter.

A. C. RATSHESKY GIVES CHARITY $100,000

A. C. Ratshesky has tendered as his first contribution a check for $100,000 to Joseph M. Herman, president of the seven trustees he recently selected to manage the A. C. Ratshesky Foundation for the Promotion of Jewish Philanthropy in Boston.

The act took place in the directors' rooms of the United States Trust Company, when steps were taken to incorporate the foundation under the laws of the State, and permanent organization was effected.

The trustees in addition to President Herman include Ferdinand Straus, treasurer; Adolph Ehrlich, secretary; Mrs. Daniel Frank, president of the Sisterhood of the Temple Israel; I. A. Ratshesky, treasurer of the United States Trust Company; Miss Isabel F. Hyams, a trustee of the Consumptives' Hospital, and Jacob R. Morse, president of Temple Israel.

Mr. Ratshesky has been a commanding figure in the business life of Boston for many years.

Thin Folks Who Want to Get Fat

Increase In Weight Ten Pounds or More

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Most thin people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are, when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, much of the fat and flesh producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy, normal amount of fat, the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can probably best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a careful combination of six special assimilative agents. Taken with meals they mix with the food to turn the sugars and starches of what you have eaten into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood, and its rapid effect has been in many cases reported remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty-five pounds to a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by all druggists everywhere, and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

NOTE—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported, care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.

FARRAR RETAINS OWN NAME ON CARDS

New York, Feb. 11—A new fashion in "at home" cards has been set by Lou Tellegen, the actor, and his bride, Geraldine Farrar. Instead of "Mr. and Mrs. Lou Tellegen" the cards bore two names—"Mr. Lou Tellegen," and "Miss Geraldine Farrar."

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE SAYS AUTHORITY

Take a tablespoonful of Salts to flush Kidneys if Back Hurts.

Omit all meat from diet if you feel Rheumatic or Bladder bothers.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Advertisement.

WAS TOLD HE HAD LEAD POISONING

Bernard L. Noyes of No. 5 Hanson St., Boston Painter, Was in a Very Critical Condition.

When a patient says, "My food does not agree with me; it sours in my stomach; I have no appetite and I have to be very careful about what I eat," it is dyspepsia. Plant Juice is giving wonderful results to thousands of sufferers of stomach, liver and kidney trouble. Many people call daily at the headquarters of the Plant Juice Man, out of gratitude to thank him for what his remedy has done for them.

The following signed testimonial was recently made by Mr. Bernard L. Noyes of No. 5 Hanson Street, who is a painter by trade and well known in this city, where he has many friends, having lived here for the past 25 years. He stated:

"For some time I had suffered from what is known to my trade as 'Painter's Colic,' and for the past eight years my stomach has been in a very bad condition and all the medicines I had tried did not seem to do me any good. I had spent hundreds of dollars trying to get well. My food soured in my stomach and caused gas. I had headaches, was very dizzy at times and my stomach was all blooted. I suffered intense agony after eating and could hardly keep anything in my stomach. I had shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart. I was so nervous I could not sleep and would lie awake for hours at a time. I was told that I had a bad case of dyspepsia, kept getting weaker and weaker until I had lost all hope of obtaining relief. I was afraid I would have to give up work altogether, when a friend told me of Plant Juice and I began to take it. The change in me was certainly wonderful, as it has put my stomach in fine shape, I can eat any kind of food and it agrees with me. I sleep well and have no more aches or pains. I cannot say enough in praise of Plant Juice."

The Plant Juice Man is at the Liggett Drug Co.'s store, corner of Washington and Avon Streets, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.—Advertisement.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Tried Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after-effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They don't upset a sick stomach and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "punky." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. A 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY DISEASES.

There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a remedy for diseases of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root stands the highest for the reason that it has proven to be just the remedy needed in thousands upon thousands of even the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription for rheumatism, kidney, bladder troubles quickly because its mild and immediate effect is soon realized in most cases. It is a gentle, healing vegetable compound.

Start treatment at once. Sold at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes—fifty cents and one dollar.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Boston Daily American.—Advertisement.

Be Careful in Using Soap on Your Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mu'tified cocoanut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

Nervous Periodical Headaches

This trouble commonly called "sick headache," or similar to be due to the retention of uræa in the system. Often it is stated that a non-correction of the bowels is a cause of these headaches, or the it is a nervous condition; and in certain cases, no doubt this is true.

Where treatment is demanded, it is more for the pain than anything else and Dr. A. F. Schellschmidt of Louisville, has found anti-kamnin tablets to give prompt and satisfactory relief.

Rest should be insisted upon," he says "and the bowels should be kept open with "Actiols"; a hot bath and a thorough rub-down with a coarse towel often give grateful relief. Two anti-kamnin tablets when the first signs appear, will usually prevent the attack. During an attack, one tablet every hour or two will shorten the attack and relieve the usual nausea and vomiting. These tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A-K Tablets. They are also unexcelled for nervous headaches, neuralgia and all pains.

SCHMIDT TO DIE IN CHAIR NEXT FRIDAY

Ossining, N. Y., Feb. 11.—Warden George W. Kirchwey of Sing Sing prison announced today that Hans Schmidt, the former New York clergyman, will be executed next Friday for the murder of Anna Aumuller.

"This is discouraging, but I have not given up hope yet," said Schmidt, when told that his plea for clemency at the hands of Governor Whitman had failed.

Prison officials now believe there will be nothing further to interfere with Schmidt's electrocution on the day just announced.

The warden's announcement was followed by a lengthy statement from Governor Whitman, in which the latter stated his reasons for refusing to save the unfrocked clergyman who, in 1913, murdered Anna Aumuller, dismembered her body and threw the fragments into the Hudson river.

In his opinion, he says Schmidt was fairly tried, that he was guilty of shamming and falsifying in the different efforts he told after the jury was discovered, and that there is no reason for executive interference with the course of justice.

The Governor some time ago granted a respite, which expired next Monday, on a plea of newly discovered evidence. This evidence, it was said, tended to show that Schmidt's young victim died of illegal surgery.

NEW EVIDENCE UNFOUNDED.

In his opinion, the Governor gives the history he has received from Dr. W. G. McCullum of the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York, and Dr. Francis Carter, both of whom examined the medical phase of the case.

Dr. MacCullom states that in his opinion there was no evilence to show that Anna Aumuller met her death as the result of illegal medical treatment. Dr. Carter concurred in this opinion.

The Governor in his opinion says:

An examination of the record on both trials shows that the medical testimony was very explicit on the very points raised by the defendant's new claim, and shows also that the question was inquired into by counsel for defendant with considerable care.

STORIES NOT CONSISTENT.

A close analysis of his many statements to officers and to fellow prisoners makes it apparent that he has not been consistent in respect of his particular story.

This defendant has been fairly tried. He has attempted, not once nor near succeeded, in foisting upon the court a story which he himself now admits was false.

He has demonstrated beyond question his capacity and skill in shamming and falsifying, and all the proof before me compels me to believe that his assertion now as to the manner of the decedent's death is utterly false.

In fact, I do not see that the falsity of his story could be more clearly established than it has been.

REFUSES TO INTERFERE.

No suggestion has been made to me by the trial Judge that the sentence should be commuted, and I am convinced that I should be recreant to my duty should I interfere with the judgment of the court. The petition is denied Schmidt has once and again declared that he will go to his death leaving behind him proofs that he is innocent of the murder of Anna Aumuller. He says his hope is that his death will result in the abolition of capital punishment.

WOULD USE SUPPLY SHIPS FOR TRADE

Washington, Feb. 11.—American shipping interests are bending every effort to induce the War and Navy Departments to give their consent to the sale of the military transports, colliers, supply ships and other auxiliary vessels owned by the government to private owners. These vessels are practically lying idle at various navy yards about the country. Shipping agents say that bottoms are so scarce that a ship normally valued at from $400,000 to $450,000 today will bring $1,000,000.

FISH BONE CHOKES LYNN SHOP GIRL

While Ellen McAuliffe was eating lunch today in Brophy Brothers' shoe factory, in Lynn, a fish bone lodged in her throat, causing her to choke. She attracted the attention of other girls by wig-wagging her arms and pointing to her mouth, then fainted. She was hurried to the Lynn Hospital, where examination failed to disclose the bone. She was able to go home.

NEUTRALS FACE BREAD FAMINE

Washington, Feb. 11.—Several neutral nations, chiefly the Scandinavian countries, are facing a bread crisis due to Great Britain's rigorous enforcement of the blockade against Germany. American Consul Roberts cabled the department from Berne today that unless wheat supplies are permitted to come through in larger quantities the Swiss nation will face a bread famine.

Seeks Annulment of Marriage to Ex-Policeman

MRS. GIULIA MOROSINI WERNER.

New York, Feb. 11.—Final testimony has been submitted in the action of Mrs. Giulia Morosini Werner to have her marriage to Arthur M. Werner, ex-po leeman, annulled, before Referee D. G. Atkins, in the offices of Spooner & Cotton, No. 14 Wall street.

Every effort has been made to keep Mrs. Werner's attempt to free herself secret, as the fact that several hearings already have been held has only just become known.

Mrs. Werner, who has cast herself Miss Morosini since her attorneys, Spooner & Cotton, investigated the circumstances in which Werner's first wife, Mrs. Alice Redding Werner, divorced him in Nevada in 1910, filed her annulment suit in Ulster County six weeks ago, alleging that the divorce decree was illegal because Werner was still married.

The chief testimony offered in behalf of Mrs. Werner consists of depositions taken at Carson City, Nev., where the divorce suit was filed by Mrs. Alice H. Werner n September 12, 1910, just four months after Mrs. Werner arrived in Reno and took up her resid nce there.

BAY STATE COUPLE MARRIED 69 YEARS

Pittsfield, Feb. 11. — Mr. and Mrs. Leonard McCulloch of Lanesboro, were married sixty-nine years ago today. Mr. McCulloch is ninety-two and his wife is eighty-nine. With the exception of seventeen years in Adams, they have passed all their married life in Savoy. Mr. McCulloch was State Representative in 1879 and Justice of the Peace for forty-nine years.

Hopes Women Will Adopt This Habit As Well As Men

Glass of hot water each morning helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Happy, bright, alert — vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin: a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls with nasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists, we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds, and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities of poisons into the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.—Advertisement.

Cough and Cold Syrup Made at Home, Touches Spot.

A great big, full pint of laxative cough syrup of the finest quality known to the medical world can readily be made by any one at home—and a child. To a pint of granulated sugar add a half pint of boiling water, stir and cool. Obtain at drug store 2½ ounces Essence Mentho-Laxene, empty it into a pint bottle and fill up with the syrup. A teaspoonful every hour or two will check or stop a cold in the head, and cure any cough that is curable. It will pay any family to keep it always in the home to avoid diseases due to colds, such as pneumonia, bronchitis sore throat, diphtheria and consumption. It is marvelously quick in action and permanent, too. Contains no opiates or poisons.—Advertisement.

SHERIFF WILL SEND COMERY TO HIS FATE

Concord, N. H., Feb. 11.—Sheriff George L. Stearns of Hillsboro County says this week from today will touch the spring which will take the life of Oscar J. Comery who, on the gallows, will explain his crime of wife-murder.

The announcement that the sheriff will be the one to operate the patent automatic hanging machine which will be used in the execution of Comery has put at rest the speculation as to the identity of the executioner.

For a week or more there have been reports that men have offered to do the work for sums ranging from $100 to $500; and there was one report that several had even come forward with offers to pay for the chance of releasing the catch which will carry Comery into eternity.

There were rumors, too, that the sheriff would get a fee if he directed the execution. These rumors are unfounded, as there are no fees in connection with the hanging.

In touching the spring in the hanging mechanism, Sheriff Stearns, it is explained, will be doing the duty assigned to him under the law.

Comery has but one more full week to live. He is cheerful, apparently, but is under constant guard of the death watch of three prison officials. He eats heartily, being permitted to have any dish he desires. He also sleeps well and seems mentally unperturbed.

Attorney-General James P. Tuttis has designated County Solicitor Burritt H. Hinman of Coos County to be his representative at the hanging.

The law requires the sheriff to invite the Attorney-General, but the latter does not wish to be present and so has named his representative.

VETERANS' NIGHT BY NORTHERN CLUB

The Northern Club of Boston, whose membership includes several men active in Charlestown politics, will give a Veterans' Night entertainment in Frothingham school hall, Charlestown, tomorrow night in honor of the one hundred and seventh anniversary of Lincoln's birthday. Grand Army and Spanish War Veterans and members of the Women's Relief Corps will be present. A band from the United States battleship Georgia will play. Congressman Peter F. Tague is chairman of the committee of arrangements.

COMMONS FIRE 'STARTED BY CHEMICALS'

By International News Service.

Ottawa, Feb. 11.—Conflicting testimony regarding the actual spot where the fire which destroyed the Parliament buildings started was given at the inquiry resumed today before Commissioners MacTavis and Pringle. Three Dominion police testified that it started on a shelf of the second desk from the door of the reading room nearest the Commons chamber, while Francis Glass, M. P., and Rene Smith, a page who tried to extinguish the flames, swore it started in the first desk.

Mr. Pringle was careful to emphasize the discrepancies, pointing out that they might have a distinct bearing on the judgement of the commission.

Several times Mr. Pringle asked questions which showed there are strong suspicions that the fire was started by chemicals poured on papers, which took fire spontaneously, later. In order to demonstrate the possibility of this, he asked Edgar Stansfield, one of the government chemists, to give an example which was done. Stansfield poured a liquid on folded paper. It evaporated. But within five minutes the paper burst into flames.

German intrigue in Canada also comes in for attention. Members sought assurance from the government that more rigorous steps would be taken to insure the Dominion against espionage.

A. W. STOVER OF CHARLESTOWN, ILL

Augustus W. Stover, father of Colonel W. W. Stover of the Fifth Regiment, M. V. M., is ill at his home on Eden street, Charlestown. He is over eighty years old, was born in Charlestown, was for many years treasurer of the Charlestown Five Cent Savings Bank and has been prominent in local politics.

DIES AS WIFE IS BORNE TO GRAVE

Pittsfield, Feb. 11.—While the body of Mrs. Edward Sears, who died in New Boston near here, Wednesday, was being carried to the grave, her husband, seventy-three years old, died in his home. Both had been ill for some time and Mrs. Sears' death caused Mr. Sears to give up the fight.

PLEADS GUILTY ON CHARGE OF THEFT

Nicolo Giampaolo in the Municipal court today pleaded guilty to the theft of $225 from Andri Di Pietro of Hanover street, and was held in $1,000 for a hearing February 17. According to the police Giampaolo stole two bankbooks from a friend in Bridgeport, Ct., and by use of these in Boston secured $225.

German Flier Seeks Trousers for Captured Foe

Berlin, Feb. 11.—A new illustration of the amenities of warfare is given in a letter from a German aviator on the western front.

This aviator participated in a combat in which a British aeroplane was shot down and one of the aviators killed. The second, in landing, found his trousers were irreparably damaged.

The German aviator then mounted an aeroplane and dropped a note into the British lines. An hour later an English flier appeared and dropped a bundle containing new trousers for his compatriot.

Dives Into Icy Water and Saves Longshoreman

Jack O'Neil, the big superintendent of stevedores at the White Star docks in Charlestown, dived head first from the string-piece today into the ice cold harbor water 25 feet below and rescued James Fowler, a boss longshoreman, who had been knocked unconscious off the upper deck of the steamer Colonian.

O'Neil, who has several medals for life-saving, was cheered by stevedores, longshoremen and other spectators along the docks for his nervy act.

O'Neil came to the surface with Fowler, holding the unconscious foreman's head above water.

Ropes were let down from the dock. O'Neil fastened one around Fowler, who was hauled up and sent to the Relief Hospital, still unconscious. O'Neil, more than six feet high and powerful, was hauled up. He went into his office for a change of clothing, then came out on the dock again, ready for work.

MISS GREEN TO BE BRIDE NEXT MONDAY

The wedding of Miss Sadie V. Green of No. 117 Baldwin street, Charlestown, sister of State Senator James L. Green, and Charles V. McNulty will take place Monday night at St. Francis de Sales' rectory in Charlestown. The ceremony will be performed by the bride's cousin, Rev. Benjamin F. Teeling of St. Philip's Church. After a honeymoon tour in the South the couple will live on Coolidge road in Allston.

ARRESTED ON BLACKMAIL CHARGE

Abraham Kaplan, twenty-two years old, giving an address in Chelsea street, East Boston, was arrested in Woburn today on charges of blackmail and extortion preferred by Abraham Loker, a retired Woburn farmer.

Loker declares that Kaplan has obtained $750 from him during the past nine months. Kaplan denied the charges, saying Loker had made him presents of money.

Loker told the police that nine months ago he hired a woman housekeeper, but that the woman worked for him only a short time. Shortly after she left his employ, according to Loker, Kaplan appeared and, after making a serious charge, threatened to expose Loker if he did not give him money. Loker says that since then Kaplan has been getting money from him several times each week.

When arraigned Kaplan denied the charges and told the police the following story:

"I met Loker in a Boston restaurant about nine months ago and he invited me out to Woburn to visit him. The first time I went to his home, he made me a present of money. I have been calling to see him two or three times each week since and he has always given me presents."

DORCHESTER COURT FINES SIX AUTOISTS

Six motorists were fined and two cases against three others were filed by Judge Churchill in the Dorchester Court today.

All were accused of violating the automobile laws. Those fined were: Eugene Lavole of Dorchester, $5; Joseph Rubin of Brookline, $5; Louis A. Hants of Sharon, $5; Nathan Hyman, Malden, $5; Donald Tarr, Boston, $10; Frederick W. Phillips, Hanover, $5. Cases against Frederick M. Mulhern of Cohasset, Thomas Potts of Brookline and Robie Freeman of Dorchester were filed.

MAN FINED $75 IN AUTO LIQUOR CASE

Henry L. Canning, thirty-six, of Dorchester, accused of operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor, was fined $75 by Judge Cinderbill today. Canning was fined $5 in addition on a drunkenness charge. Canning's arrest followed a collision of his automobile last night with a coal wagon on Adams street, Dorchester. Jeremiah Mahoney, driver of the wagon, was thrown to the street and suffered a sprained ankle.

SUNDAY FINES FOR 6 LONGSHOREMEN

Fifty longshoremen and freight-handlers were arraigned in Charlestown court today on charges of doing Sunday work without police permits, were fined $5 apiece and appealed. The cases of the other forty-four were put over to February 25.

WATCH SORE THROATS

because swollen glands or inflamed membranes often affect other tissues and lung trouble easily follows.

To correct throat troubles the pure cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is speedily converted into germ-resisting tissue; its glycerine is curative and healing, while this wholesome emulsion promptly upbuilds the forces to resist tubercular germs and avert the weakening influence which usually follows.

If any member of your family has a tender throat, get Scott's Emulsion to-day. Physicians prescribe it to avert throat troubles, overcome bronchial disorders and strengthen the lungs. No alcohol or harmful drugs. Always insist on Scott's.

Costs Clubmen $1,832 to Meet 'T. R. and Bryan'

Worcester, Feb. 11. — Sixty-two members of the Worcester Club, the most exclusive social organization in this city, are out $1,832 as a result of answering invitations to meet Colonel Roosevelt and Williams Jennings Bryan.

The invitations were as follows:

"You are cordially invited to attend a gathering in the Worcester Club, Monday evening, February 7, to meet Theodore Roosevelt and William Jennings Bryan."

The invitations were unsigned and the bait was so tempting that those who received the bids fell for it. Once at the Worcester Club the recipients of the cards were informed that they were summoned to pay for the privilege.

The scheme was devised to get the wealthiest members to the club to make contributions for the National Security League. The amount the sixty-two subscribed was $1,832. The money will be used in carrying on the work of the league in this city.

Middletown, Ct., Feb. 11.—Dr. John Koplitz, aged ninety-five, is dead here.

MURRAY STARTS NEW POSTAL AID PLAN

Postmaster Murray has inaugurated a new policy of probationary appointments of superintendents of branch postal stations and other subordinate officers.

The new policy will, according to the postmaster, enable the department to find the right men for the various positions in the Boston postal district, their fitness or unfitness being demonstrated during their terms of probation.

The first superintendent to be appointed under the new rule is G. C. Fuller, to the Wellesley station, on a term of probation of six months.

Under the same plan Patrick J. Mahrer was appointed foreman of the inquiry division at the central post-office.

Two New Zoology Courses.

Two new courses in zoology at Harvard are to be given by Professor Maurice Caullery, exchange professor from the University of Paris.

SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

WELLESLEY PROM TONIGHT

GLEE CLUB CONCERT ALSO A FEATURE

Miss Laura Jennings, leader of the Wellesley College Glee Club, which gives concert tonight.

Many Boston society folk will go to Wellesley tonight to attend the Glee Club concert and senior prom, the big dual social event of the college year.

The Prom will be held in the Mary Hemenway gymnasium. Pink and red roses, laurel and smilax have been used in the decorations, and the comfort of the guests will be looked out for by fourteen pretty sophomores who will appear in the guise of French maids.

Miss Laura Jennings, leader of the Glee Club, has arranged to give the concert tonight for the college at large, and to repeat it tomorrow night for the benefit of the seniors and their guests. The Prom is the big "man dance" of the year at Wellesley.

In the receiving line at the Prom will be President Pendleton, Miss Olive Davis, director of the halls of residence; Mr. Green, president of the board of trustees and honorary member of the senior class; Mary Elliot, chairman of the senior prom committee, and Rebecca Meaker, president of the senior class.

The other members of the senior prom committee are Adeline Blake, Elizabeth Downer, Lois Ward, Pauline Storey, Edith Chivvis and Gladys Turnbach.

The sophomores who as "French maids" will assist in the dressing rooms are: Pannie Mitchell, vice-president of the sophomore class; Beatrice McIndoe, Rebecca Vincent, Marion Gunson, Kadah Booth, Mildred Bowman, Pauline Brown, Elizabeth Gascoigne, Fannie Kane, Eleanor Dawes, Marion Winstead, Marion Wiley and Esther Basha.

Saturday afternoon tea dances will be held in the society houses, and in several of the sororities for the entertainment of prom and glee club concert guests.

Dorothy Connoble is manager of the glee club and Hazel Watts is accompanist. Miss Gertrude Hall is leader of the mandolin club.

o o o

Boston society will be well represented at the ball and annual pageant, given in the Hotel Astor by the Society of Beaux Arts Architects, an event of great splendor in New York society. Mrs. Robert L. Bacon will direct the maidens of Lethe, Gordon Knox Bell will appear as Pan and Malcolm D. Whitman as Apollo.

o o o

Mrs. Homer B. Richardson will entertain at dinner tonight in honor of her daughter, Mrs. J. V. Woodard of New York, who came on to attend the Assembly. Another large dinner party of the evening is that of the Francis Lee Higginsons, all taking their guests on later to the ball.

o o o

Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Saltonstall and their daughters, Miss Nora and Miss Maybel Saltonstall, left today for a trip to California.

BRANDEIS FOES SEEK AID IN BOSTON

Washington, Feb. 11.—Many Boston men, named by Clarence W. Barron, of the Boston News Bureau, were summoned today by the Sub-Committee on the Judiciary of the Senate to appear Tuesday to be permitted an opportunity to support the "hearsay charges" which Mr. Barron was prevented from putting before the committee in his endeavors to block the confirmation of Louis D. Brandies' appointment to the Supreme Court.

The Boston men, to whom summonses were sent by Senator Chilton, chairman of the committee, before which is staged the fight against the Brandeis appointment, were:

Charles S. Mellen, ex-president of the New Haven road.

Moorfield Storey of the New Haven's staff of attorneys.

Charles F. Choate, also of the New Haven's counsel.

James T. Lennox.

Melvin O. Adams.

John P. Leahy.

William S. Youngman.

Sherman L. Whipple.

Sydney Winslow.

William F. Fitzgerald.

Mr. Spaulding of the Columbia Kid Co., South street.

Hollis R. Bailey, and

Mr. Collins of the brokerage firm of Collins & Co.

Mr. Barron was halted in his testimony by the query if he had any facts of his own knowledge, and became angry when he was refused to present what was characterized as hearsay evidence.

Mr. Barron was forced to admit that he had no personal knowledge of Brandeis' unfitness although he had criticised him editorially in his newspaper and news service. The Boston men, to whom summons have been sent, were named by Mr. Barron as the sources of his information.

DANIELS APPROVES CADETS' DISMISSAL

Washington, Feb. 11.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels today approved the reports of the academic board of the Annapolis Naval Academy, which recommended the dismissal of eighty-two cadets because of poor work in their studies. This action closes the case. The cadets will be dismissed at once.

A Foe to Tuberculosis

The Journal of the American Medical Association (August 9, 1913), reviewing an article on "The Influence of Calcium Salts on Constitution and Health," said: They (the authors) report numbers of concrete instances in which patients gained in vitality and energy after taking calcium."

Doctors agree that in tuberculosis lowered vitality and low energy must be overcome.

One of the constituents of Eckmans Alterative is calcium (lime), in such combination with other valuable ingredients as to be easily assimilated by the average person. To this, in part, is due its success in the treatment of tuberculosis—a service which even some ethical practitioners have acknowledged to their patients. We make no wholesale claims for it, but since it contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, it is safe. Sold by all Riker Drug Stores and leading druggists.

DISORDERS IN MEXICO WORST IN 5 YEARS

By EDMUND BEHR.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 11.—Lawlessness, which at many places is no less than anarchy, holds the greater part of northern Mexico in its grip.

Travellers arriving today from various parts of the interior of the northern Mexican states declare that the disorder is greater now than since the revolutions began five years ago.

Even the peons are being robbed and maltreated by numerous bandit gangs which infest the country. The disorder is especially bad in Chihauhau and Durango.

Mexican travellers reaching Juarez today told of a bandit attack at San Juan Del Rio in Durango, where Francisco Villa was born. Property was burned, cattle carried away and many women mistreated.

American miners in isolated spots are being warned to hurry to the nearest garrison towns unless their property is well guarded by armed men. Many foreigners are expected to leave the country within the next few weeks, abandoning such property as they cannot take with them.

Outlaw bands are apparently operating within a day's march of the capital cities of Chihuahua and Durango.

Villa and a strong band is now said to be near the Mexican Central Railway, 125 miles south of here. He is well equipped.

Thousands of Records of "MOTHER"
The New Song,
Were Sold Last Week at the Steinert Victor Stores

"Mother, a Word that Means the World to Me," is not a composition of pretentious literary or musical standards. It is just a simple outvoicing of popular feeling touching the heartstrings of sentiment, with a melody that swings to the warmth and fervor of the emotion. And as it is sung by Henry Burr it pictures in your mind a dear mother somewhere—the best mother that ever lived.

THE MOHICAN COMPANY

To the People of Boston and Vicinity

Open Saturday, Feb. 12th, 10 A. M.

IN opening our big PROVISION STORE we wish to say that in appointments and fixtures and stock of goods, there is none better in this country, probably none to equal it. It is as up-to-date a provision store in everything that goes to make a first-rate store as it is possible to establish.

But, after all, fixtures and appointments do not furnish an excuse for the opening of any store. The only thing that is of any considerable value to the public is the goods—the quality of goods and the prices at which they are sold. This is the fundamental, basic thing in merchandising, and it is here that we expect to merit your patronage.

WE have not come to your city to cut prices or to meet the cut prices of other merchants. So far as our prices go, we do not know and shall not consider that there are any other merchants on earth. We know what the goods cost us, and our selling price will be regulated always by this cost of goods and by the cost of selling them.

Our store here is only one of a chain of stores that we have in operation, and it is this chain of stores that enables us to buy goods at a lower price than other merchants buy them. Our policy is, and has been from the first, and will be to the end, to sell goods to the customer on the smallest possible margin, and in doing this we give the consumer the benefit of unlimited capital in our purchases.

THE old days of merchandising are dead. The local dealer who has to depend upon middlemen for his supplies, each one of whom makes a profit, is no longer in the game. He cannot sell goods at the low prices at which a big combination can sell them, and live. He cannot do this for the reason that he cannot buy his goods anything like so low.

We are conducting merchandising on the same broad principles that enter into railroading, and banking, and shipping, and the big manufacturing industries of the country. Our policy is to do an enormous business and on the smallest shading of profit.

More for a dollar than a dollar can buy elsewhere

EVERY advantage we get in buying by reason of our constantly increasing number of stores we give to the customer—we mark the goods just so much lower.

Whenever you can buy goods of the same quality and kind at another store cheaper than you can buy from us, we would certainly advise you to buy there. We shall not mark goods down because somebody else does. No merchant can sell any class of goods below cost and live, and be honest. When goods are sold below cost, the average profit has to be made up, and is made up, on something else. It is either made up on something else or the merchant fails.

As we have said above, the selling price of our goods will depend entirely upon the prices at which we buy them, and all the money that can be used to any advantage whatever will be employed and put at your service and the service of the customers of our other stores in the purchase of these goods.

WE have no bargains to offer you. We have no cut prices to offer you. We shall make a profit on everything we sell you—a very small profit, to be sure, but it will be a profit. What we would be cut prices to another store—the store that cannot buy as we buy—would be the usual price with us.

Our fixed charges for doing business are reduced to the smallest possible point, as we sell no goods except for cash, and we solicit no orders and make no deliveries of goods. The delivery system alone in a large business runs up to many thousands of dollars annually, and the charging system necessitates many thousands of dollars in losses and a good deal of cost in labor. All these savings—a good many thousands of dollars in savings—will be taken off the price of our goods. The cost will be marked just so much lower. You can't get something for nothing. You cannot get a delivery service without paying for it. The man who is willing to take home his own goods, to do his own express work, should have a place to buy his supplies where he can get the benefit of his own labor. At this store you have such a place.

INSANE HUSBAND GASHES WIFE WITH RAZOR

Brockton, Feb. 11.—Fearing that his wife was going to leave him for a younger man, according to the police, Michael Maselle, fifty-five, of Pine street, early today slashed the woman with a razor across the face, throat, shoulder and hands.

Mrs. Maselle, who is thirty-three, was taken to the Brockton Hospital, where she is in a serious condition. Her husband was arraigned in the Municipal Court on a charge of assault with intent to murder, and was sent to the Taunton Insane Hospital.

The woman's life was saved by her brother, Frank Campanelle, who had a room in the house, and went to her assistance when he heard her screams. The police say that Maselle believed Campanelle was seeking a younger man for his sister.

Woman Dies in Blaze.

Lowell, Feb. 11—Mrs. Fenton was suffocated in a fire which partly destroyed her home on the Carlisle road, North Billerica.

EDITH SANDERS, a Virginian, who returned on the Cretic from singing in opera in Italy.

GUN ON CRETIC FOR PART OF VOYAGE

The White Star liner Cretic arrived today from Mediterranean ports and the Azores with her 1,041 passengers filled with lively realization of the perils of merchant shipping at present.

Passengers who boarded the Cretic at Naples and Genoa for the westward run found a four-inch gun mounted on the after-deck, with a British navy gun crew aboard. The gun and crew had been shipped when the Cretic touched at Gibraltar on her last voyage out from Boston.

A constant gun watch was kept while the steamer crossed the Mediterranean on the westward run. At Gibraltar the gun and crew were sent ashore and the Cretic crossed the Atlantic as an unarmed and peaceful vessel.

Since her last appearance here the Cretic has acquired a complete coat of battleship gray, making her less conspicuous to observers, hostile or otherwise.

The passengers experienced a "Moewe scare" right after they cleared Gibraltar on the way over. Dr. Waldo Richardson of Seattle, a returning Red Cross surgeon, said when the Cretic docked here today:

"We heard about the Appam incident at Gibraltar. There was much speculation among the passengers as to whether we would run across the Moewe or whatever the German sea raider's name was. One day out from Gibraltar we saw a vessel on the horizon. The Cretic's course was immediately changed, with increased speed, and the unknown vessel was lost to sight. We felt confident that the strange was the Moewe and that officers on the Cretic's bridge, with their powerful glasses, could make her out, hence the orders to flee."

SURGEONS RETURN.

Captain F. B. Howarth of the Cretic laughed at the Moewe report and said:

"If anyone on the Cretic had seen the Moewe the Cretic would never have got to Boston.

The Cretic brought 15 saloon, 116 second cabin and 910 third cabin passengers. The majority had war experiences.

Miss Edith Sanders, a Virginian, returned from singing in opera in Italy. She said:

"The opera is doing less and less in Italy on account of the war. Contracts are being voided right along, as mine was. There was nothing I could do about it, so I have returned to my own country."

There were four Red Cross surgeons aboard. Dr. W. P. Giles of New York, son of Captain E. J. Giles of Auburndale, returned from surgical relief work in the Champagne district of France. The other three, members of the Chicago unit of the American Red Cross, were Doctors George P. Gill of Rockford, Ill., Fred W. Moeller of Chicago and Waldo Richardson of Seattle.

Dr. Moeller and Dr. Richardson were arrested in Edinburgh as war suspects. After being relieved of their Red Cross work on the Continent they crossed to the British Isles for sightseeing. They were still in Red Cross uniform, not having had opportunity to get into civilian attire. But they had surrendered their traveling papers, such as are issued to Red Cross surgeons, and had only their American passports.

Dr. Moeller's name excited suspicion at Edinburgh and he and Dr. Richardson were arrested and were quizzed for over an hour before the British authorities became satisfied of their neutrality.

Dr. Richardson, describing Old World attitude toward the United States, said:

"In Europe today America has very few friends. We are despised by Germans, hated by English and cordially disliked by the rest of Europe, except possibly by the French."

Frank A. Perret, resident volcanologist, or volcano expert, at Mt. Vesuvius for the Carnegie Institute, returned with volcano photographs taken at peril of his life. He had a station on Vesuvius for several years. He took pictures of the big eruption of 1906, when lava dust five feet deep settled around his hut. He had to shut the hut tightly when the wind blew the dust clouds that way.

When the wind would shift he would dart out with his camera and snap as many plates of the eruption as possible, then run back when the wind-driven lava pall veered in his direction again. He is a member of the Springfield Volcanic Research Society.

MYSTERIOUS PASSENGER.

The mystery passenger was S. B. Apostolofs, an electrical expert of Russian birth but British naturalization, who was accompanied by his wife. Mr. Apostolofs told reporters that he was traveling merely for pleasure and that his movements were of no public importance.

But other passengers said the electrical expert received marked attention from Captain Howarth and other Cretic officers. It was persistently reported that he came here on a secret mission for the British government and that this mission relates to storage batteries. Efforts to question Madame Apostolofs were fur failures.

Nine Serbian residents of the Pacific Coast returned from war experiences in their desolated country. The one having suffered the greatest hardship was Nicoli Borah of Oakland, Cal. After living twelve years in Oakland he returned to Serbia, enlisted and was wounded in four places by a shrapnel shell at the Austrian siege of Belgrade.

He could act as interpreter for American and English army surgeons so he was not left behind with the other Serbian wounded to the mercies of the Austrians, but was carried along by the retreating Serb forces. He recovered partially from his wounds.

When the Serbs were routed he managed to get a horse. He made his way thus through Montenegro and Albania into Italy. He is still suffering from a shoulder wound and partial paralysis of one leg. He was detained by the immigration authorities here for a board of special inquiry.

A report that fifty Italians had stowed away on the Cretic started the ship's officers on a thorough search when the liner docked. Inside of an hour three stowaways had been found.

HAIR SNIPPER GETS 2 YEARS IN JAIL

John T. Bacheller, charged with snipping the hair of two young Lynn girls, was sentenced to two years in the House of Correction in Lynn Court today. He appealed and was held in $1,000.

The girls are Mabel Halloran and Thelma Travers. Bacheller was arrested January 8, and, according to the police, he had a pair of scissors and the Halloran girl's braid in his pocket. Since that time he has been under observation in the Danvers Insane Asylum.

DARTMOUTH MAN ENLISTS IN WAR

Walter R. York of Somerville, a Dartmouth College junior and a football player in Somerville High school and in college, has enlisted for four months service as ambulance chauffeur in the American Ambulance Corps in France. He will sail from New York on the Adriatic next Wednesday. He is the son of James M. York of No. 32 Dartmouth street, Somerville.

HISS WORKERS IN PLYMOUTH STRIKE

Plymouth, Feb. 11—Crowds of strikers hissed and jeered when employes entered the plant of the Plymouth Cordage Company at opening time today. No attempts were made by the pickets to interfere with the 200 who have so far returned to work.

CUNNINGHAM MAY NOW QUIT OFFICE

Mayor Rockwood of Cambridge and Commissioner of Public Safety Henry J. Cunningham of that city held a long conference today, and there followed a rumor at Cambridge city hall that the commissioner would give up his office without further fighting. Yesterday the Supreme Court ruled in Cunningham's favor in Mayor Rockwood's battle to oust the commissioner from office. The story today was that the commissioner, satisfied with his victory, would step down and out of office to prevent future friction.

CHARGES AGAINST HOTELS DISMISSED

The Licensing Board has announced that after a hearing it has found the charges preferred against the owners of the Hotel Trafalgar and Hotel Oxford of selling and delivering liquor to minors, were not sustained. The complaints have accordingly been dismissed.

RACQUET CRACKS IN BAD

All Cut and Dried for Governing Body to Declare McLoughlin and Bundy Professionals.

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Maurice E. McLoughlin and Thomas C. Bundy, two of the foremost tennis players in the country, will be declared professionals by the executive committee of the American Lawn Tennis Association at its meeting here today.

James Prior Allen, a gentleman of interesting connections, with the officials of the governing tennis body, made this statement.

"McLoughlin and Bundy recently signified their intention of entering the sporting goods business as partners. This intention, if carried out, tennis officials claim, will constitute a violation of the rule which provides that there shall be no commercialization of athletic fame. McLoughlin has said that his mind is made up."

Mr. Allen added that he had seen the correspondence between McLoughlin and Robert D. Wrenn, retiring president of the National Association, and George T. Adee, his successor. He said that both Wrenn and Adee had stated their views and the debarment of McLoughlin and Bundy undoubtedly would follow.

He further said that Frederick D. Alexander, a tennis player of international fame, would also be affected.

Mays First Big Leaguer on Deck at Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 11.—Carl May, the Boston Red Sox's lucky relief pitcher, and Grover Cleveland Alexander, the Phillies' justly renowned right-hander, form the first two baseball arrivals of the year at the spa. They reached here early in the week, planning upon taking a course of the baths before reporting to their respective managers. Mays intends staying here until Bill Carrigan arrives with the champions.

Last night Clyde Milan, the Washington Club's veteran outfielder, joined Mays and Alexander. Milan had a passing fair season at bat in 1915 and is bent upon regaining his oldtime form for Clark Griffith.

ATTRACTIVE MENU FOR B. C. HIGH NINE

Boston College High's baseball card for the coming season, just announced, is clearly the most pretentious in the history of the institution. Such clashes can be relied upon turning out his usual winner. He is booked for April 15. Other likewise the season will open with the Medford game, in Medford, April 12. South Boston High, Hyde Park High School, Salem High, Cambridge Latin, Concord High, Boston Latin, English High, Dorchester High, Charlestown High, Lawrence Academy, Beverly High, Woburn High, Norwood High and Bridge Tech are among the teams. Boston College High has booked. The nine closes its season June 19.

HARRY CODY LUCKY TO BE CALLED KING

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Feb. 11.—Harry Cody of Toronto, although only winning one second, that in the half-mile, piled up 70 points and won the international outdoor skating championship. Anton O'Sickey of Cleveland finished second, with 60 points. Cody tumbled when in the lead in the three-mile race. He took his fall on the first turn and the event was won by Charles Fisher of Milwaukee. Ed Hoffman of Saranac Lake, holder of the 220-yard hurdle title, placed the event to his credit. Ray McWhitter of Chicago won the half-mile race.

GILMORE'S P. A. NEW WORCESTER RULER

New York, Feb. 11.—H. T. Brewer, former New York sporting writer and the Federal League's local press agent last year, has purchased the Worcester (New England League) club from Peter McHale, John H. Donnell and Jesse Burkett. The reported purchase price is $50,000. It is reported that when the merger of the New England Leagues and Eastern Association is completed, Thomas J. Lynch of New Britain, Ct., former president of the National League, will be asked to serve as the chief executive, as it is understood T. H. Murnane positively refuses to remain in office.

B. H. PADDLERS OFF FOR TIGERS' MEET

Five members of the Brookline Ruth crack swimming squad leave this afternoon for Princeton, where they will compete in tomorrow's interscholastics. Captain Leo Handy, Fredericks, McKinnon, Collins and Bird are the members going and they will be chaperoned by Manager Hennessy. Couch McCormick will not make the trip.

COOMBS TO BE IN CHARGE.

New York, Feb. 11.—Manager Robinson has ordered the Brooklyn pitchers and catchers to report for early work at Hot Springs, Ark., February 5. Jack Coombs will be in charge of the squad.

BALL BACK IN BASEBALL

SHORTSTOP OF THE BRAVES

The schedule having been adopted, the meeting over, an anniversary dinningly celebrated, and everybody more or less satisfied and happy, it now looks a whole lot nearer the time for real baseball to start.

New owners are not always so ready to step to the front with the necessary money with which to secure ball players. The present action of the Boston (National League) club owners in giving Manager Stallings the men he needed will go a long way toward assuring the public that the club really means to be up there in the 1916 race.

I notice that "Chuck" Deal is in town. While I haven't seen him, I wish him to know I am with him in his new job. "Chuck" certainly came through for us in 1914. He will be mighty popular in St. Louis.

President Percy D. Haughton made a deep hit with the magnates, newspapermen and followers of the sport circle in his brief speech at the forfeith anniversary dinner he came out firmly for good, clean sport, with such a spirit to back the club the boys will hustle all the harder for there isn't a man on the squad but what knows that he will get a square deal from President Haughton and Manager Stallings. Both men are fighters and I see that all that is coming the club's way arrives.

There are now three Czars in baseball. President J. K. Tener, President H. B. Johnson and President Ed Barrow.

Well, it is all off so far as big Schmidt is concerned. The power of persuasion possessed by President Haughton and Manager Stallings was not strong enough to cause him to reconsider his statement. "Butch" will be a plain business man from now on, with an occasional appearance on the ballfield in the lineup of a local club.

I am told that former President James H. Gaffney of the Doves plans to visit Boston quite frequently during the coming season. He is very fond of Boston and has a lot of friends here. Among them none are more loyal to him than the baseball writers of the city, who for several years have been in close touch with him.

* * *

Not much was said in the reports of the anniversary dinner concerning the presence there of Treasurer Arthur Sec. He was very much in evidence, however, about the corridors, meeting the men who control the Kelos.

WINSTON AND DANA TO MEET IN FINALS

New York, Feb. 11.—Eric S. Winston and Addison Dana, both members of the Harvard Club, clash tomorrow for the national championship at squash tennis on the Harvard Club courts. Both players won their semi-final battles yesterday.

"BOB" TUNIS DEFEATED.

New York, Feb. 11.—Robert Tunis, Harvard Club, lost to Paul P. Gould in the opening game in the national squash tennis title match, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2. Post and G. O. Wagner won from H. Waller Robinson and Merle Johnson, respectively.

RING RESULTS

Hartford, Ct., Feb. 11.—Bantamweight Jimmy Taylor of New York was knocked out in the ninth round by Sterling Eaton, Brooklyn, in a scheduled ten-round battle. Taylor was weakened from taking a bad beating in the early rounds.

Lawrence, Feb. 11.—Battling Lee Nelson of Manchester, N. H., stopped Tommy Morphy of south Lawrence in the seventh round at the Unity Club. Harry Ah Chung knocked out Tommy Williams in the second round and Al Llarick defeated "Kid" Thomas in a boxing bout.

New London, Ct., Feb. 11.—Joe Azevedo, the California lightweight, knocked out Frankie McManus in the second round of a carded 10-round bout.

Goulette Tosses Bolin the Odd at Hip Show

Peter Goulette, the Woonsocket wrestler, won the odd fall from Eddie Bolin of Brattleboro, Vt., in their catch-as-catch-can match at the Hippodrome last night. Inasmuch as it was Goulette's second victory over Bolin in the past three weeks, Peter must have something "on" Eddie, though the Vermont grappler and his friends are still loth to admit Peter is the big member of the pair.

George Tuohy's sport carnival made a big hit with the fans, who turned out fully 2,000 strong. Bolin gained the first fall with a head chancery and scissors in 21m. 25s. The second go was a particularly lively one, Goulette winning in 16m. 30s., with a head scissors. The third fall went to Goulette with a head scissors and armlock in 21m. 40s.

Will Bingham lived up to his name of Jap-killer by downing Takawich twice running. The first flop came with a reverse armlock in 7m. 55s., and the second with a strangle-hold in 9m. The Jiu Jitsu match was a thriller in every respect.

Michailoff, the Cossack, proved himself Wisdom's superior and threw the husky German in straight falls; 17m. 38s. and 7m. 8s.

BROOKLINE SQUAD AT BEST FOR M. A.

The Brookline High track team clashes with Mechanic Arts tomorrow afternoon, in the Brookline Gym, in its second meet of the season. The team is fast coming around into fine form under the tutelage of Coach Delahanty. Edgar, Johnson, Litchfield, Spitz, Sanders, Hennessy and Amaden loom up as likely point winners for Brookline.

Bowling Notes

CHESTER MARTEL of Lowell failed to meet Archie Walsh last night to clinch the match proposed by him some time ago. Walsh, who had $100 posted to clinch a match, withdrew his money.

THE Aberthaw League bowlers have agreed that in order to be eligible for the season's prizes a man must roll in at least seven of the ten matches scheduled.

THE banquet and prize committee of the Spanish War Veterans' League meet tomorrow night to decide on a list of prizes and form plans for a banquet.

AFTER winning nine consecutive matches the Pleasant A. A. struck a snag in the Welters of the Walk-over League, losing its first match of the season by forty-seven pins.

QUINCY will turn out enmasse next Monday night when Paul Poehler and Archie Walsh clash in a special ten-string match on Wardwell's Alleys. As Quincy is Poehler's home town it goes without saying Manager Louie Rose will have his troubles handling the crowd.

THERE seems to be little chance of overhauling the Telephone team, leaders in the Corporation League. With a lead of eight points its position looks mighty safe.

Le Gore and Pals Barred from Yale Teams

By International News Service.

New Haven, Ct., Feb. 11.—Final action by the executive committee was taken last night when a formal decision was rendered barring Captain Milburn of the baseball team; Harry Le Gore, the football and baseball star; Willard Easton, Spencer Pumsellly and Robert Rhett, members of the varsity nine, from participation in Yale athletics for the rest of the present college year.

The five men unintentionally violated the Summer baseball rule of Yale by accepting free board while playing baseball last Summer at Quogue, L. I. They later paid for their board, but the executive committee said it was compelled to enforce the penalty of the violation.

CABOT UNABLE TO GO AFTER THE TITLE

Norman W. Cabot, Tennis and Racquet Club, will not be able to make the trip to Baltimore for the national individual squash championship tournament which gets under way tomorrow. The team representing Boston in the intercity division has not been selected.

Braves Lose Draw for Meyers and 'Chief' a Dodger

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—"Chief" Meyers will catch for the Brooklyn Dodgers the coming season. No players were involved in the deal with the Giants. McGraw will only receive $1,500, the waiver price, in payment for the Indian.

The ex-Giant's whereabouts for the coming season were determined by a draw. The Reds and Braves also sought his services. The Dodgers won. Meyers' contract with the Giants, which calls for $6,000, has another year to run, but it is understood he will get less from Ebbets.

CHARLEY WHITE HAS SNAP WITH THORPE

Kansas City, Feb. 11.—Charley White, the Chicago lightweight, easily defeated Harvey Thorpe of this city at Convention Hall last night. Thorpe managed to stay through the ten rounds by clinching and running at every opportunity. Despite these tactics, White gave the local 135-pounder a severe beating.

Fed Player for Braves; Is to Go in Trade

New York, Feb. 11.—Outfielder George Anderson of the Brookfeds was purchased by President Haughton of the Braves yesterday.

Though Greater New York critics consider Anderson plenty skilled enough to become a regular in the Stallings outfield, it is thought he was obtained to be used in a trade with Cincinnati, as the Braves' management is bent upon going the limit in acquiring Catcher Ivy Wingo, now that it lost "Chief" Meyers in the draw.

In 134 games with the Brookfeds last year Anderson batted .259. He scored seventy runs, drove out 133 hits and stole twenty bases. As a fielder he was rated among the best in the Gilmore organization.

ARTHUR COTE DEAD AS RESULT OF FALL

Biddeford, Me., Feb. 11.—Arthur Cote of this city, the well-known welterweight boxer, died at Togus yesterday. While training for a recent bout Cote fell and his death is attributed to the accident. He was thirty-eight years old.

Thieves Steal an Entire Ball Park; Spoil Reds' Plan

New York, Feb. 11.—August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati Reds, is sending his team to Shreveport, La., to train this spring through stress of peculiar circumstances.

"I had contracted for Alexandria, where we trained the last two years," said he. "We were grounds. The park was about hotel, dandy climate, excellent delighted with the place. Fine three miles from town, reached by a spur that branched off the city loop.

"This Winter the highway passing the park was closed several months for repairs. The spur was not in operation. The colored settlers of the community took full advantage of these facts. When the owners of the park went out to inspect their property recently, they found nothing there but the sod and ground. Every board and chair of the grand stand had disappeared—stands, bleachers, dressing rooms and fences. There were a lot of new houses, barns and outhouses that had sprung up over Winter on the property of the colored citizenry. But no incriminating trail. This is the first instance ever reported to the chairman of the National Commission of the actual theft of a baseball plant."

By International News Service.

New York, Feb. 11.—Johnny Ertle, claimant of the bantamweight championship, has received an offer from Dominick Tortorich, the New Orleans promoter, to fight "Kid" Herman twenty rounds Mardi Gras week. Mike McNulty, manager of Ertle, replied, asking for $6,000, with the privilege of a percentage of the "house."

RING REMARKS

UNABLE to get the right match, [illegible] the Armory A. A. announces [illegible] at the Hip next Tuesday night.

BUT there's "something doing" tonight and the show bids fair to prove a corker in every respect. It's the B. M. A. A., which will entertain at Hibernian Hall, Roxbury, and Terry Brooks of local parts and Walter Mohr of Brooklyn, a pair of lightweights owning wicked wallops, will square off in the big number.

BY the by, it's a veritable Cambridge night out at Roxbury. Brooks hails from there. So does Emery. "Young Frankie" Mack and Joe Vargus are two other contestants who call Cambridge home.

LEO P. FLYNN put "Battling" Lahn of Brooklyn, the bantamweight member of his string, over at Hartford, Ct., last night. The well press-agented Jimmy Taylor of New York was the youth Lahn lammed, Jimmy going down and out in the ninth canto.

IT'S not so very long ago since Taylor gave "Kid" Williams a hot time of it in a 15-round set-to. Hence, Lahn's win sets mighty good with Leo P.

WE respectfully wish to correct a "bone." Young Jenny Donovan, appearing in his second professional battle at Providence Wednesday night, had a gallop in his set-to with Young Murphy. Donovan, so say Boston sports, who took in the mill, beat Murphy a considerable heap easier than he did up Willie Green at the Hip., Tuesday night. Donovan is a good-looking prospect, but his handlers don't want to rush him along too fast.

WRESTLING fans will be glad to learn that Frank Gotch has come out of retirement. [illegible] to meet an inferior foe on West Washington's Birthday [illegible] that Frank knows a fortune awaits him to go on with Joe Stecher, and now it looks as if it's a sure thing he's going to get back in the game.

WATCH the Stecher-Gotch match when it is made. The purse will probably exceed the Willard-Moran coin—he right back of it, anyhow—and the money wagered around the land will be fully ten times greater than the pile going upon the heavyweight ring combat.

Take Exams at 7 and Leave for N. J. at 10

Harvard's wrestling team goes to Princeton tomorrow where the Tiger grapplers are booked for a tussle. Six of the men making the trip have [illegible] completed whereby they will undergo the tests early in the morning, after which they will dash to Back Bay station and from the train which leaves for New York shortly after 10 o'clock.

The lineup of the team is still undecided. Howard Bull, who wrestles in the 115-pound class, will be unable to make the trip because of illness. Don Stewart, who has been sick, is back in shape and will go on with the 115-pound Princeton entrant. Nine men will make the trip, including Coach Sam Anderson and Manager Phil Blanchard.

I Buy Out the Entire Stock of A. J. Epstein & Co.

A. J. Epstein & Co., one of Boston's leading woolen merchants, after fifteen years at 41 Essex Street, deciding to give up men's woolens and confine themselves strictly to ladies' cloths, came to me with the proposition to take over approximately one hundred and fifty pieces of their merchandise, at less than 50% of what the goods cost them over six months ago.

They had made this location a woolen centre. The immense loss on these woolens is too long a story to tell. Incidentally, a liquor store having branches underneath both sections of their immense woolen chambers, having difficulty over the question of license with an entrance separating their different stores, caused the closing up of A. J. Epstein & Co.'s entrance. This caused an expensive law suit and the final necessity of Mr. Epstein moving.

This merchandise he guarantees me is absolutely first class goods, mostly medium to heavy weights. They were not all made for this season. The cheapest yard of cloth carried by Mr. Epstein cost him in the neighborhood of $1.50 per yard and from that up to $3.25. These goods would retail for from $2.12½ to $4.50 a yard. They run mostly to grays, browns and dark conservative effects, pin checks, club checks, overplaids and every coloring that would constitute a high grade merchant tailor's stock. A tailor buying this quality of merchandise today with the increased prices put on cloths, could ill afford to make the cheapest yard of these cloths under $20.00 for a suit, and a tailor charging $50.00 could not afford to put any better merchandise in his garments than the better qualities in this range of goods.

One hundred and fifty pieces of goods would be entirely too much for any other tailor in this city, and I want to make a quick turn-over in February. Stock of merchandise comprises Paragon, Sheriff, Fitchburg, Puritan and Washington Mills Worsteds, Kunnards, Strongheart, Sayles, Broadbrook Worsteds and Cassimeres. These represent the finest mills in this country.

The skyscraper hat for fall and Spring. The new hats from Paris are getting higher and higher in style, and as the prices are correspondingly high, it will undergo some sort of modification when it reaches American shores. As for the way trying at the latest, still, it likely will stick to extensive proportions may be considered expected.

A fair sample of the new skyscraper is that of two sailors are here pictured, with the exception of the crown. Dark fur felt, or blind silk, straw, with brim as it does for the straw, and the crown is made from soft velvet. As for the way trying at the latest, still, it likely will stick to extensive proportions may be considered expected.

Large hats and small hats are all some quite flat, the choice being regulated almost entirely by the shape of the face. Georgette of Paris is making two hats that are strikingly similar and bizarre styles. At the left is a large hat with a high crown, and at the right is a small hat with a high crown. Both are made of straw with a velvet band. The large hat has a wide brim and the small hat has a narrow brim. Both are trimmed with ribbon and feathers.

Mixed straw and velvet are combined to make a very attractive hat. The crown is made of straw with a velvet band. The brim is made of straw with a velvet band. The hat is trimmed with ribbon and feathers.

HUNT BROKER ON 'RICH-QUICK' CHARGES

By International News Service.

New York, Feb. 11.—The United States Postoffice Department is desirous of knowing the whereabouts of John H. Putnam. He is a member of the brokerage firm bearing his name, whose offices were entered by postoffice inspectors.

The firm is understood to have received in the last two months between ______ and $100,000 from its customers, who were induced to buy stocks on the instalment plan.

For the last two months the firm has been flooding the country with circulars offering to purchase stocks for investors on the instalment plan.

The Postoffice Department has been investigating the concern, and Postoffice Inspectors McQuillen and Mayhew entered the firm's office at No. 6s Broad street. Manager Louis Thonet was escorted to the Federal Building.

Under examination Mr. Thonet said that he found a note from Mr. Putnam bidding him good-bye.

The note, he said, directed him to pay off the clerks and stenographers and shut up shop.

As to Charles S. Harkness, the other supposed member of the concern, Manager Thonet said he knew nothing because he was supposed to be living in California.

The belief is that Putnam is now aboard the Baltic on his way to England.

Just prior to the outbreak of the European war, Putnam was in Victoria and Vancouver, B. C., said McQuillen. Later he visited Los Angeles, Cal., and from there went to London. He returned to the United States early in December and opened the Broad street offices.

The concern first dealt in Magna Copper Company stock and the American Tube & Stamping Company, in a regular way, obtaining a reputation on the "street" as a conservative firm.

The firm then engaged in the sale of stocks of the Ohio Oil and Standard Oil of California, on the partial payment plan, and inaugurated an enormous mail order campaign. The concern's literature promised a net return of 50 per cent. per year.

United States District Attorney Stanton questioned Thonet and several women stenographers.

STOCKS AND INVESTMENTS
By W. H. ROSS, Financial Editor

Stocks were irregular in New York at the opening with the price range small and trading less active than at the start yesterday. Texas Company opened 1° lower and was about the only issue to show much price change. U. S. Steel began at half a point decline. American Zinc soon gained a point and later sold at its highest record price. But there was little of significance in fluctuations. Initial transactions were almost wholly of a professional character. Coppers were extensively dealt in. Anaconda ebbed and rallied and was soon selling at yesterday's closing price. Neither Chino nor Utah Copper moved far in either direction. In all classes of stocks, in fact, changes were trifling. Traders did not show much initiative. Cabinet news from Washington had no bearing upon the market. The report of U. S. Steel as to January unfilled tonnage was commented upon as about what might have been expected at a time when mills are having more business than they can handle. After a few minutes more issues showed more losses than there were others showing gains.

BIG MARKET LACKED BREADTH.

The New York market did not have its usual breadth and there was less business in war order issues than usual. American Zinc soon became the feature. Interest was confined to a great extent to it and coppers. Within a half an hour Texas Co. recovered its loss and the price trend was upward for the list as a whole.

Gains at 10:15 included Baltimore & Ohio ⅛, N. Y. Central ⅜, St. Paul ¼, Chino ⅛, Inspiration ¼, American Beet Sugar ⅜, Republic Steel ⅜, American Zinc 1⅛, Butte & Superior ¼ and National Enameling ¼.

Among declines were Union Pacific °, American Smelting °, U. S. Steel ⅛, American Locomotive ⅛, Colorado Fuel ⅛, Crucible ½, General Electric ⅜, Goodrich ¼, Lackawanna Steel ½, Mexican Petroleum 1, Studebaker ¾, Tennessee Copper ⅛ and Westinghouse ⅜.

Among unchanged issues were Anaconda, Utah Copper, Distillers, Baldwin, Erie, Pennsylvania and Northern Pacific.

AMERICAN ZINC DEMAND.

The Boston market was strong at the start, the tone being firmer here than in New York. Business was mostly in coppers and zincs, although United Fruit and "rights" were active. American Zinc was in demand and during the first hour sold up to 73, a gain of 2½.

Gains here at 10:10 included Copper Range ¼, Arizona Commercial ⅛, New Arcadian ⅜, Shannon ⅜, Utah Consolidated ⅛, New Haven ½ and United Fruit ⅛.

Among declines were Butte & Superior ¼, Allouez ½, U. S. Smelting ⅛ and East Butte ⅛.

MONEY CENTRE OF WORLD.

Although it is said Europeans are sneering at this country as "too proud to fight," they are not too busy with war themselves to lack time to give Uncle Sam more attention than ever before.

The war has advertised abroad the financial and productive resources of the United States as nothing has ever done. Not only have the allies had to depend upon it for munitions and food, but they have borrowed a vast sum of money here, and are after more.

It has been said that the war is going to make New York the money centre of the world, a position already claimed for it by some. London, which has been the undisputed centre for a century, does not relish the idea.

E. Mackay Edgar, a London banker, now on this side, says:

"I see a great deal about New York having superseded London as the city which can finance the world. New York may occupy that position in another generation, but I do not believe it can be done at this time.

"The reason is that your wealth, vast as it is, is needed to develop your own country, whose possibilities in an investment way have hardly been scratched.

"The reason why London and Paris have been the great world financing centres is that people of those nations are accustomed to purchasing securities of various governments as sound investments. American investors do not want government securities because the industrial possibilities of this country are so great that they offer a much larger remuneration."

A JAPANESE VIEW.

When Baron Shibusawa, called the J. P. Morgan of Japan, got home after a tour of this country, he had something to say about the United States. He said to Yokohama bankers:

"The United States is at one of the most important points of her history. Hitherto her people have been satisfied with their own national progress, political, economical and financial, but the great war in Europe has caused them to realize that circumstances have made their country the world's financial centre, and every man in business seems determined to realize the opportunity to the fullest extent."

Various statements cabled to this country indicate that arrangements are being made to place another foreign loan here.

J. P. MORGAN'S MISSION.

While J. P. Morgan was on the way to Paris to confer with government officials and bankers with, it is believed, that end in view, M. Ribot, the French Minister of Finance, was in London arranging for the sale of French-owned securities in the British capital. It is presumed some of these securities are American stocks and bonds, and that the British will add them to those mobilized by their government as collateral for money borrowed in the United States.

Mr. Morgan will soon be in Paris. M. Ribot is back there to report to the French cabinet what he has accomplished in London. The French government will be in a position to talk business with Mr. Morgan as soon as he arrives.

As to what will be done with the securities handed by the French to the British, it is cabled from Paris:

"The transactions will be carried on through the Bank of France and the Bank of England, and the proceeds devoted to payment for goods purchased in England."

Wall Street thinks most of the goods the French buy in England will be made in the United States.

REACTION IN WHEAT AFTER LOW PRICES

Chicago, Feb. 11.—The action of the wheat market in reacting 2¾ to 3½c from bottom prices showed that it is a dangerous procedure to hammer the market downward in the expectation of a further price break and a chance to cover short sales and secure profits.

The May future sold from $1.28½ down to $1.25. When the price was hovering around the lowest levels reached there were reports of heavy takings of the cash article for shipment abroad. This news caught the market almost bare of offerings, and those who wanted wheat were obliged to bid up sharply for it. The closing was $1.27⅝ to $1.27⅞, which was the same level as the close of Wednesday.

The July future sold early at $1.21¼. It slid downward to $1.17, reacted and advanced to $1.20⅜, the latter being ⅛c below the resting spot of Wednesday.

TRADE RECORDS OF U. S. SHOULD BE CORRECT

By B. C. FORBES.

New York, Feb. 11.—The government, the reformer of business, is in need of reforming in its business activities.

A business man in the White House would find much to set right.

The admission has been wrung from the administration that its figures purporting to show the extent of our foreign trade are grossly inaccurate and therefore untrustworthy.

This cannot be because of haste in their preparation and publication.

It takes the government three weeks to announce the bare total of our monthly imports and exports.

A "summary" of January's trade is not available until March.

The monthly summary of Great Britain's foreign trade is always published two or three days after the end of each month.

And Britons are supposed to be slow-going as contrasted with American hustling.

Our government in a rash moment undertook to issue weekly figures covering exports from the principal ports.

But the effort was so taxing that the Department of Commerce has announced that these very useful figures will no longer be compiled.

It is too much to hope that the monthly returns will now be available before they have lost their interest?

Exporters have been asked to supply exact and exhaustive data concerning their shipments. The information asked is regarded by some as inquisitorial and liable to be absurd if it falls into unscrupulous hands.

The movement itself, however, is to be commended if it will, as it should, enable the government to compile trustworthy instead of, as heretofore, untrustworthy returns.

Now that we have taken first place among exporting nations, it is more than ever desirable that accurate foreign trade figures be published.

Certain articles recently printed in responsible quarters have had the effect, the unintended effect doubtlessly, of belittling the importance of our foreign trade as compared with our domestic trade.

Curious "estimates" of the volume of our home trade have been published. Totals of about 500 billions per annum have been rolled up. And since our combined imports and exports reach only five billions, the impression created has been that foreign trade is not by any means a matter of life or death.

In the guesses at our aggregate domestic trade, allowance is made for the same article of commodity produced changing hands several times, but exports and imports are put down as changing hands only once, a wholly erroneous misleading process of reckoning.

Foreign trade is tremendously important.

It is in the nature of a "stabilizer," that wonderful invention which enables airships and certain other rapidly moving objects to preserve their balance.

Scientific business methods call for exact data.

As an adjunct to this country's new and epochal campaign for a fuller share of the world's commerce, detailed export and import figures will possess real value, if they can be depended upon in the matter of accuracy. Timeliness is also an important factor.

Reports of governmental bodies sometimes do not come from the printer until they are a year old. The Interstate Commerce Commission has been a flagrant delinquent in this connection.

Some idea of the importance attached to having prompt foreign trade figures may be gathered from the fact that one New York financial institution specially interested in building up over-sea commerce has undertaken the task of preparing weekly foreign trade report. A task that the Department of Commerce gave up has been taken up by private enterprise because of the value of having such information.

The fourteenth of August was the day fixed upon for the sailing of the brig Pilgrim, on her voyage from Boston round Cape Horn, to the western coast of North America. As she was to get under way early in the afternoon, I made my appearance on board at twelve o'clock in full sea-rig, and with my chest, containing an outfit for a two or three years voyage, which I had

If you cannot do this it is proof that either one or both eyes are defective or that you are now wearing incorrect glasses. In either case you require the immediate attention of a Specialist in Optometry. If you cannot qualify on these eye tests and are troubled with headache, eye strain may be the cause. Have one of our Specialists examine your eyes. By appointment if preferred.

These Are 'Jumbo Squabs'

Our Witty Friend "PUCK" Presents Them. The Public Laughs at Them. BUT——

Copyright, 1916, by the Star Company.

"JUMBO SQUABS"
(Reproduced from "Puck" by Permission)

TO most of our readers, serious men and women, this picture will be a puzzle. We shall explain it.

The sort of squab that you eat, a young pigeon, when unusually fat, is called a "jumbo squab." Frivolous people speak of young women on the stage as "chickens" or "squabs."

Why they do that, we do not know. But it is a fact that they do it.

This particular picture is intended to ridicule one class of the human "squabs" that dance on the stage. The ridicule comes in applying to them the word "jumbo."

In other words, a "jumbo squab" is a young lady on the stage fatter than others.

It is considered ridiculous and unfortunate for a young woman to be shaped like the "jumbo squabs" in this picture.

Young men about to select a wife, however, please remember a few things.

The mother of Napoleon Bonaparte was shaped very much like one of these "jumbo squabs."

She was not built in the modern fashionable shape, which is that of a ten-penny nail.

She had wide hips, good, strong shoulders, arms and legs.

Her neck did NOT look like a foot and a half of garden hose.

She was a "jumbo squab," and it showed in the strength that she gave her son, who had the power of several men.

She was able to create such a man, and others of real ability, in spite of the dreadful handicap of her early marriage.

She was having children from the time she was fifteen years of age.

But she was a "jumbo squab," not a living skeleton dressed up in a few silk rags.

She was able to take care of her children while following the army in Corsica.

And when her son was a prisoner, abandoned and friendless on St. Helena, it was the same "jumbo squab" mother who had saved money for him, and stuck to him, when some of the ten-penny-nail style of women whom he had known had left him.

Another woman who would seem funny in our day and be classed as a "jumbo squab" was Olympias, the mother of Alexander the Great.

If she had not been fat and broad, Philip would not have married her. The Macedonian idea of a Venus was not something made up of acute angles. Olympias was able to give Alexander a constitution even more wonderful than that of Napoleon. She was built to be a mother, not to be a professional tango dancer. Lucky Alexander, to have had her for his mother!

Then there was "Bertha of the Big Feet." She was a huge woman and the mother of Charlemagne. That is enough to say about any woman.

Then there was the mother of William the Conqueror.

She was the daughter of a tanner. When the Duke of Normandy saw her washing clothes by the brook and fell in love with her he did not fall in love with any fashionable silhouette. She probably weighed at least one hundred and sixty pounds then, in her early girlhood—how much she weighed later we don't know.

This editorial is written first to make young men realize that it is not necessary to be skinny in order to be worth while; second, to encourage thousands of poor sisters who have not been able to starve themselves into the small shapes that they desire; third, to rebuke millions of women who eat too little, wear too little, and imagine that if they are thin enough that is all-sufficient.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

The Fell Clutch of Circumstance!

WE are not certain who mussed up
The Tulip bed last night.
The culprit might not be the pup,
And then, again, it might.
We're baffled in our search for clews;
The crafty pup has fled;
But little Tommy shined his shoes
Before he went to bed.

A Profitable Loss

We rejoice to see that our fellow-citizen Woodrow Wilson has lost some of his pride.

What Might Have Been

The Attorney-General of Iowa threatened to invoke the anti-tipping law against anyone who spent a tip received from the Presidential party. Had Mr. Bryan been elected in 1912 the Attorney-General would have been saved all that work.

WE do not know who spilled red ink
On father's new silk hat.
We none of us should like to think
That Tommy would do that.
But when the evidence we weigh,
As all detectives do,
We find he washed his hands today
When no one told him to.

WE missed a pie one day last week,
And still we are in doubt,
Though sternly we set forth to seek
The guilty party out.
But Tommy, knowing not repose,
All night lay wide awake,
And groaned and moaned as one who knows
The pangs of stomach ache!

Natural Preparedness

What's the use of armaments, anyway? If the Atlantic fails to hold the enemy we can fall back to the Mississippi, and if they cross that we have a splendid line of intrenchments in the Rocky Mountains.

Like the Glory That Was Greece

"These buildings (Federal courts, postoffices, etc.) inculcate a spirit of patriotic pride which is not measurable in dollars and cents. They will remind the people of the glory and the majesty and the power of this great republic."—Representative Clark of Florida. Mr. Clark may have added that the country will need a reminder of these things when one or two European belligerents have made them extinct.

Just a Suggestion

If either Bryan or Roosevelt expect to get as much as standing room at the respective conventions they will have to break in as masked marvels.

Hint

Naval officers who for patriotic reasons desire wide publicity for their reports will do well to lay down hard on Josephus to suppress them.

As the Poles Asunder

Billy Sunday says he would like to be a colonel like Roosevelt or Bryan, which is a good deal like wanting to be an explorer like Christopher Columbus or Doc Cook, or an aeronaut like Orville Wright or Darius Green.

Experts

If Professor Lowell will just hurry up and get into communication with Mars we may get some useful advice about how to keep canals open.

The North Pole, for Example

Doc Cook says there are no wild men in Borneo, because he didn't find them. But there are a lot of things that Doc Cook never found which are there just the same.

One Instance of Efficiency

Our only effective fleet of destroyers comprises the Democratic Congressmen now breaking up the last remnant of the Baltimore platform.

Letters from American Readers

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

Dear Sir—I read in the AMERICAN of a woman, arrested for shoplifting, who said she stole to secure money to purchase food, and the statement was made that, when arrested, she was weak from lack of food.

Why is it that such conditions exist in our own city and country? Yet nothing is ever done to alleviate or help the thousands of deserving young and old men and women who are in the same condition as the one mentioned but who have not enough nerve left even to take a chance of stealing something to keep them from starving.

Instead they are forced to walk the streets, homeless, cold and starving, while funds amounting to thousands of dollars are being raised and sent to European countries.

Are these foreigners the ones who will be called upon in time of need to multitude, protect and support the institutions of America?

If so, this charity and help is being well placed. Such is not the case, however. Therefore you will agree with me that it is about time that we should begin to put into actual practice the idea of ex-President Roosevelt when he said, "America not for Americans, but Americans for America." Thereby assisting and helping those whom we know are actually deserving and needy and who should be helped first, and if the time ever comes will be found shoulder to shoulder with other true Americans fighting and giving their heart's blood to protect America, the greatest country on God's earth.

With this thought in mind, I would suggest that such a fund be started and maintained to remedy the conditions mentioned, and which would also help to raise American manhood and womanhood above the pan-handling and street-walking class which at the present is their only means of providing and keeping life in their bodies.

Thanking you for your attention, I am, yours truly,

F. SHERWOOD.

No. 6 Mount Vernon place, Boston.

Nagging Parents a Peril to Children

Many Fathers and Mothers, Who Have Forgotten Own Childhood Days, Drive Boys and Girls from Home to Doubtful Pleasures by Constant Fault-Finding and Fretfulness

By Ella Wheeler Wilcox

Copyright, 1916, by the Star Company.

A YOUNG man possessed of brains, heart and the power of expression urges the need of editorials and articles which, as he expresses it, "may save just one little troubled soul from jumping into a fathomless abyss out of which it can never climb unscathed."

The article which he wants written is two-fold in its purpose, a warning to parents and a warning to children; to parents against continually nagging their children about trivial matters until the home becomes a dreaded place of punishment instead of a haven of rest and peace; a warning to children against rushing away from home and into the dangers of the great outside world.

The young man says:

"I have the best father and mother God made; but, though under thirty, I know a score of cases (I could truly say more than a hundred) where children have been driven to the verge of desperation by parents who have forgotten they were once young and who utterly fail to comprehend their offspring."

High Profession of Parenthood Least Studied of All at Present

Just at the present moment the young man is endeavoring to dissuade a good girl from cutting loose from all home ties because she is made so miserable by the fault-finding and fretfulness which prevail in her home.

Many times in this column has the thoughtlessness, the lack of consideration, the blindness and the stupidity of parents been discussed. The high art of parenthood is the least studied of all the professions open to men and women.

Mothers live under the same roof with their daughters from the cradle to the maturity of the children and yet know less of their hearts than they know of the mental moods of Hagar of the wilderness or Rachael mourning for her children because they were not.

The American fathers and mothers are droll beings. One would think them very amusing were it not that the farce they play so often ends in a tragedy.

A young woman revealed to the writer of this article once upon a time that she had become addicted to the use of stimulants. "I think mamma suspects that I have this habit," she said, "but she has never spoken of it to me, and I have never had the courage to tell her about it or to ask her help to overcome it. She is always scolding me for every little thing I do, and I know she would have no sympathy for such a big fault as this."

The daughter resembled her father, who had died from alcoholism, and yet this blind mother had not the sense to protect her daughter. The laws of nature are constantly proving that daughters more frequently resemble their fathers than do the sons.

One would think that a man who had passed through the whirlwinds of passionate youth might consider the sacred duty to carefully guide and tenderly protect his children over the dangerous reefs of life by giving well-chosen associates and talking freely and intimately with them on these subjects.

Fathers and Mothers Too Quickly Forget Their Own Childhood Days

But not one father in one thousand is found who follows this course of conduct. Fathers and mothers so quickly forget their own youth. It is incredible that the sweetest and most romantic part of life, and at the same time the most dangerous, should fade from memory so wholly, as it seems to do with the majority of parents.

It is incomprehensible how little logical, sensible thought parents give to home-making. Parents will work and slave and deny themselves the necessities of life in order to give their children an education and clothe them well, yet they will make home uncomfortable by fault-finding, complaining and nagging and showing an absolute lack of sympathy and understanding for the tendencies and weaknesses of youth.

Are you a good parent?

Toleration as an Asset

By Charles F. Thwing

President Western Reserve University

THE growth of toleration in the individual or the community measures the growth of civilization.

The savage is intolerant, the civilized man tolerant.

For, toleration is a virtue at once of the mind, the heart, the conscience and the will. In its higher relations it becomes a grace, as well as remains a virtue. It stands for knowing one's own cause, condition, movement, forces.

It also stands for knowing other men's cause, condition, movement, forces. It stands for self-understanding and for self-respect. It also stands for altruism, for the other man's worth. It has, too, a certain emotional appreciation, feeling with other's feeling, inspiration inspired by the other man's ideals, exultation over his triumphs, depression made by his failures.

It is free from arrogance. It is first cousin to humility. It spells sympathy. It even goes so far as putting one's self in the other's place, recognising his difficulties and limitations, as well as appreciating his powers and favoring environment. It is bathed in the waters of imagination. It suggests the oneness of all men and the uniting of all the races.

Toleration usually is supposed to be a negative force. It should be made positive. It should represent, not passivity, but activity. It should aid and promote. It does not stand for mere intention. It is consistent with partisanship, but with a large and seeing, not a blind, partisanship.

At once springs up the question, Is one to tolerate evils, is the State to tolerate crime, the community wrong, the individual insults? Are the pestiferous forces to be suffered to continue working devastation and destruction? Are the moral typhoids to be allowed to go on spreading their epidemics?

Of course the answer is inevitable. Every form and force of evil attacking the community are to be removed. But, in such extirpation, one is to bear in mind the causes whence the pests arise.

One may worthily pray not to do more harm by the tearing up and out of evils than are the evils themselves. It is sometimes well to let the tares grow with the wheat until the harvest-time.

Toleration is not, however, a suffering of things so much as it is a suffering of persons. It is also to be remembered that often the best way of casting out sickness is to build up the general health. Certain bacteria do not attack the strong. The cyclone has no affinity for sound oaks, only for those which have rotten hearts.

In all vital processes evolution counts for more than revolution. One may find it hard to tolerate errors, but he can tolerate men who are in error, provided only they wish to seek and to find the truth.

Toleration is often supposed to be the mark of maturity, of age, of experience, and intolerance of youth, of inexperience, of immaturity. Age thinks more in curves, youth in tangents.

By nations and by individuals toleration should be regarded as a fruit, delicately and thinly rooted, which can be and should be cultivated. Its blossoms bear no poisons.

Bismarck is not usually supposed to be an example of toleration. Rather he commonly is supposed to be a perpetuator of Laud and Strafford. But if his toleration shown in the Austrian war of 1866 had been followed in the German-France war of 1870-71, of permitting France to retain Alsace and Lorraine, the world today would have been a far happier world.

Of all English statesmen perhaps John Bright represents best the great virtue, in its large and noble relations.
